Area Development Group Plans Action

An advisory committee on highways was established when representatives of the Salem Area Development Council, the Chamber of Commerce and City Council met Wednesday noon at the Lape Hotel.

The committee was set up following a suggestion by Harold D. Smith, mayor-elect.

Eastern Bases Selected As Missile Sites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four East Coast Air Force bases have been selected for construction of the first launching sites for the Bomarc, the nation's newest missile designed to knock down enemy bombers.

The Air Force reportedly feels about 15 such sites would provide anti-aircraft coverage for the East and West coasts and the nation's northern boundary. The Bomarc can cover a wide area and ravel faster than sound.

However, although it is designed to intercept enemy bombers as far away as 300 miles and as high as nearly 12 miles, the Bomarc would not be effective against ballistic missiles.

Plans to build the first Bomarc launching sites were announced Wednesday night by the Air Force. It said it had signed contracts totaling 46 million dollars for work at Dow Air Force Base, Maine; McGuire Air Force Base, N.J.; Otis Air Force Base, Mass.; and Suffolk County Air Force Base, Long Island, N.Y.

In another defense development, it was learned that U.S. scientists are working on development of midjet H-bombs for battlefield use. The main objective would be to reduce radioactivity fall-out.

Charitable Events Require Sales Tax

Non-profit organizations such as PTAs, granges, fraternal groups, and women's clubs along with sororities, religious and charitable organizations and auxiliaries are required to collect sales taxes on sales, Leo Taugher, local sales tax examiner, reported today.

Yesterday's article in The News was incorrect in saying the sales tax did not have to be collected. Taugher explained that the groups are wrong in not collecting sales tax even though they are non-profit clubs and are raising funds for charitable or religious purposes.

Clubs should be mindful of the fact that the sales taxes are to be collected especially around this time of year when they are engaged in money-making activities, Taugher said.

lowing a suggestion by Harold D. Smith, mayor-elect. The group would consist of three men each from the Area Development Council, the Chamber and Council who would meet with state highway officials to discuss road problems relating to Salem and the area.

Smith said, "If the city of Salem and the district expect to get consideration from the state highway department, we must present an intelligent, and united approach."

To Confer with Quicksall

The committee is expected to name one director who will meet with William Quicksall in Ravenscroft tomorrow. Quicksall is chief of Division 11 of the State Highway Department and will be in Ravenscroft for a meeting on the Ashabula-East Liverpool highway project.

The directors meeting with Quicksall will be to set up a meeting between the advisory council and highway officials for sometime in the immediate future in Salem.

This meeting with highway officials would also include discussion on the proposed relocating of R. 62.

In other action yesterday the group voted to meet with the Perry Township trustees and a group of township residents to follow up on planning for the entire township.

Salem China Co. Marks Birthday

Sales Staff Here For 60th Anniversary

The Salem China Company opened its first national sales meeting today, marking the 60th anniversary year for the local pottery.

The sales school began with a breakfast this morning at the Elks Club in Alliance and attended by the firm's entire national sales force.

"The growth of Salem China Co. through the past 59 years, although not extraordinarily spectacular, has been one that was constant and continuing," stated J. Harrison Keller, president of Salem China Co., in his opening remarks. "1956, the largest year in the history of our company, was roughly one-third larger than our previous record year - which was 1948."

"1957 will end within a few percentage points of that record, and we are today looking forward to 1958 expecting it to be another record-making year," stated Mr. Keller, who added, "We believe we have the product, the sales staff, the market, and the selling plans to achieve that result."

Russia Launches Atomic Surface Ship

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia scored another first today, launching the first atomic-powered surface ship.

Moscow radio announced the 16,000-ton ship will be capable of breaking through ice over 6 feet thick, will use only a "few grams of its atomic fuel" every 24 hours and will be able to remain at sea for "several months."

The Soviet Union needs giant ice breakers to work along its frozen north coast.

The first U.S. atomic-powered surface ship, the 21,000-ton merchantman Savannah, is scheduled to be completed in 1960. The U.S. Navy has been operating atomic-powered submarines for several years.

The Soviet radio gave this additional information on the Lenin: The vessel has sleeping accommodation for 1,000. Its top speed will be 19 knots. Its draft 30 feet, length 435½ feet and maximum beam 90 feet. Its engines were rated at 4,000 horsepower.

200 Hurt; Rescuers Hampered by Fog

LONDON (AP) — Rescue workers today said approximately 100 persons died in the rush-hour crash of two trains taking commuters and Christmas shoppers to their homes in thick fog Wednesday night.

Salvage crews, moving through a nightmare scene of fog and twisted metal, brought out 80 bodies. They said more than 25 to 35 other bodies still were trapped in the mangled coaches.

Police said more than 200 others were injured, including 110 seriously hurt. Determination of the final toll of dead and injured may take several days.

Arms and legs of still bodies protruded from the windows and shattered roofs of the coaches. The rescue crews said there was no hope that any still remaining in the wreckage were alive.

This is going to be a long job. We haven't even started," said a member of one salvage gang.

Tarpaulin screens were erected along roadways overlooking the scene in Southeast London to hide the wreckage from passing motorists and the curious.

Horrible as the wreck was, it just missed being even worse, for a third train almost was involved.

An 11-coach steam train drove into the rear of a 10-coach electric train halted near St. Johns' Station. The impact shot cars into the air and brought down part of an overhead viaduct which carried another electric rail line.

An eight-coach electric train above was left with the front wheels of its engine hanging over the edge. Salvage teams early this morning finally removed the train above.

The two wrecked trains were carrying about 2,000 commuters and Christmas shoppers bound for the suburban town of Hayes and the English Channel towns of Folkestone and Deal, 50 miles to the southeast.

Not Operating On Schedule

Trains were not operating on schedule because of the thickest fog in recent years which enveloped Britain and parts of the Continent for two days. The disarranged timetable and lack of visibility were blamed by some for the wreck; but railway officials declined to speculate before a full inquiry.

It was the worst train wreck in Britain since 112 persons died Oct. 8, 1953, in a three-train pile-up at the suburban London station of Harrow.

The fog hindered removal of the injured to hospitals as ambulances, police cars and fire engines crept to and from the scene. Many of the injured staggered blindly away through the muck to find help at nearby residences.

Dr. Frank Ellis was one of the first medical men to go inside the wrecked coaches.

There were so many dead I could not count them," he reported. "Some of the living were trapped under piles of corpses."

Engineers' Master Plan Studied

Central Maintenance Center For City Urged

(Editor's Note—This is the first in a series of articles explaining six of the major recommendations made in the Comprehensive Master Plan which is intended to govern Salem's future growth. The Michael Baker Engineers of Rochester, Pa., recently completed the plan and have left it in the hands of City Council and the Planning Commission for future action.)

One of the major recommendations made by the Michael Baker Engineers in their recently-completed Comprehensive Master Plan

Fair Date Set By County Board; Officers Elected

The Columbiana County Fair Board decided at a meeting Wednesday evening to hold the 1958 county fair Aug. 15-20, according to Galen Greenstein, who was re-elected president of the 1958 board.

The dates will have to be approved by the State Board of Agriculture. The fair board decided to hold church services on the grounds on Sunday if the dates are accepted by the state.

P. R. Corey of Columbiana was elected vice president, succeeding Ben Weingart of Leetonia. Re-elected were Clarence Crosser of Lisbon RD 3, secretary; and Richard Stamp of Salem RD, treasurer. Corey was again named concession secretary.

Weingart and William Maple of Kensington were sworn in for three year terms as members of the board. Clem Laughlin of Wayne Township, the other board member, was unable to attend last night's meeting. He will be sworn in at a later meeting.

The board voted not to participate in the Ohio Coot Stakes for 1958.

Crosser was elected delegate to the Ohio Fair Board Managers convention which will be held in Columbus Jan. 14, 15, and 16. V. B. Lemley was named alternate. The board expects to issue a full report on the 1957 fair within the next two or three weeks.

IT WOULD CONSIST OF A SINGLE BUILDING TO HOUSE OFFICES FOR EACH DEPARTMENT A COMMON RADIO EQUIPMENT ROOM, MAP ROOM, LOCKERS, SHOWERS, TOILETS, A SHOP FOR METER AND ELECTRICAL REPAIRS, WATER METER REPAIR AND A VEHICLE MAINTENANCE SHOP.

The estimated cost would be $167,400 and, to avoid duplication of facilities used by the Water and Street Departments, it is proposed to construct a central maintenance and storage center for the two departments. There is no intent to consolidate the departments in any way other than their storage facilities.

Two GARAGE BUILDINGS of concrete block, concrete slab floors and a flat built-up roof containing 4,900 square feet each would be erected, one to the east and one to the west, of the center building. The two garages would cost an estimated $38,200 which is included in the above total.

Other expenditures in constructing the center would be outdoor lighting, fencing, site work, planting and engineering supervision.

The estimated cost of these expenditures would be $30,200.

The need for the center was cited when the preliminary survey of the city indicated that the city water works structure is one of the most unattractive buildings in the city.

The engineers report further stated that the site of the old structure, which is located on a three and one-half acre tract of land on W. State St. detracts greatly from the beauty of the city.

THE PRESENT water works building should eventually be razed. This area could then be reserved for additional use or sold as commercial or industrial property.

The additional men needed to man the proposed center and the two parking lots was not stipulated in the engineers' recommendations.

City Council is now studying the recommendations and they are expected to begin legislative discussions after Jan. 1.

East Coast Hit By Snowstorm

10 Persons Dead; Traffic Is Snarled

NEW YORK (AP) — bright sun returned today in the wake of Wednesday's bitter early season snowstorm that lashed the East Coast from Connecticut to Virginia, causing 10 deaths and snarling transportation.

Six lives were lost in New Jersey, two in New York and two in Maryland.

Despite the sunshine, the temperature in many places continued below the freezing mark keeping highways slippery and hazardous. Huge forces of road workers turned out for the giant task of clearing travel lanes.

There were record snowfalls in New York and New Jersey, and stinging hard winds piled up huge drifts in spots. As the storm moved on into the Atlantic, the wind eased.

The snow measured up to two feet in Maryland. In northern Maine temperatures fell to 10 below zero although the state itself escaped the snowstorm. Winds reached 45 miles per hour.

New York City received 7.3 inches of snow during a continuous 25-hour fall, topping the 6.5 mark for the date set in 1911. The storm ended at 10:30 Wednesday night.

In Philadelphia, the snowfall measured six inches in the city and 10 inches in suburban areas.

Many rural and suburban schools were closed.

The snow, heaped up by the wind, grounded planes at New York City's Idlewild Airport, Newark (N.J.) Airport and points in Maryland Virginia.

Thousands of autos were stalled throughout the storm region. In Westchester County, N. Y. just north of New York City, police reported.

Driver Hurt When Car Rams Truck

A 49-year-old Lake Milton man was hurt when his car slammed into the rear of a trailer-truck on Rt. 15, one mile west of Austintown at 11 p.m.

The victim, Frank Zocco, received fractured ribs and severe shock and is listed in fair condition at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

The accident occurred when the tractor-trailer driven by Lloyd Heath, 51, of Newell, W. Va., pulled onto the main road travelling west and Zocco could not stop and hit the rear of the vehicle.

Zocco will be cited for reckless operation when he recovers, the patrol said.

Another Trial Date Not Set

U.S. Calls Off Test Launching of Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States called off its proposed test launching of the Gamma baby moon Wednesday night only 50 minutes short of the target hour.

The combination of a series of minor difficulties forced postponement—particularly a leaky disconnecting valve on the launching rocket's liquid oxygen tank—and a bad break on the weather.

In Washington, John P. Hagen, director of the U.S. Project Vanguard program to launch a series of research satellites during the international geophysical year, said it was his guess that the launching process would be resumed later today so it might be completed tonight or in the early hours of Friday.

But J. Paul Walsh, deputy director, told a news conference at Patrick Air Force Base officers club that there would be no renewal of the launching attempt today.

Walsh said the launching crew could get the 72-foot rocket ready immediately if it had to, but it would be up to the Defense Department to set the date for a new attempt.

He added that supervisors of the missile test range, 5,000 miles into the South Atlantic from the test center here, had been asked to give the satellite project the best time available for another effort.

Cape Canaveral is teeming with test missiles—Army Jupiters, Air Force Thor and Snarks, assorted Navy weapons — awaiting firing schedules. Fitting them in has become a Herculean task for this overworked, overcrowded center.

Oregon Firm Picks Site At Alliance

ALLIANCE — The Hyster Co. of Portland, Ore., a widely-known manufacturer of heavy machinery, has acquired a 37-acre industrial site here.

Robert Graham, president of the Alliance Development Corp., viewed the step as one which would mean another employment providing industry in Alliance.

Chamber of Commerce General Manager Glen Allen said that it was another step toward progressive diversification for the city.

The Hyster Co., which has 700 dealers scattered throughout the world, manufactures industrial lift trucks and logging and construction equipment for use with diesel tractors.

The company has other offices in Peoria and Danville, Ill., the Netherlands, Brazil and Scotland.

The site of its plant in Alliance will be on N. Rockhill Ave. Ext. adjacent to the Pennsylvania railroad.

Brr! Temperatures Tumble In District

Wool coats and ear-muffs are officially in order.

The thermometer dipped to a low of only three degrees above zero in Salem at 6 a.m. this morning. The reading was taken by the employees at the city disposal plant.

The chilliest weather reading taken in Columbiana County was made at Millport where the temperature was one degree above zero early this morning.

ONLY A BABY MOON, BUT ---

Satellite to Aid Researchers

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Even though America's first satellite may only take a third place in the space sweepstakes, it will still go down in history as a revolutionary scientific achievement.

As a scientist at the Naval Research Laboratory says: "It may not be first, and it's only a baby, but we can call it our baby and that makes the big difference."

There's more than sentiment in this comment. Launching your own satellite gives you a great advantage in extracting scientific results from it. Plus that, it's possible that the sophisticated, miniaturized electronic equipment in the first U.S. baby moon will end up providing more information on the characteristics of space and the shape of the earth than both of the Russian Soutniks.

The first vital reports expected from the U.S. baby satellite, not available from the Soutniks, are constant temperature measurements.

IT WAS ESTIMATED the temperature on the skin of the baby moon would be from 18 to 54 degrees Fahrenheit. But they could vary from 18 degrees below zero to 90 degrees above. Readings will vary depending on whether the satellite is in the sun or the earth's shadow.

Tiny crystals in the two radio transmitters will make slight variations in the 108 megacycle signal sent to earth, indicating changes in the temperature of the satellite.

Dedicated instruments recording the megacycle variations will reveal the temperature changes. Signals are a steady hum, not beeps. Temperatures from the heart of the satellite as well as from the skin will be transmitted back to earth.

"Ultimately this information will tell us what we must know in order to put humans into space machines," Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the U.S. satellite project, says.

SIX SOLAR CELLS, which look like windows in the baby moon and provide electrical energy from the sun, power one of the tiny transmitters. This could keep signals from the first U.S. satellite for the duration of its life, whatever that may be. It's a significant advance over the Soutniks.

Seven tiny mercury batteries, each two inches long and five-eighths of an inch in diameter, will supply nine volts of electricity for the other transmitter for two weeks.

These signals, coming to earth at minor variations of 108 megacycles, make the U.S. satellite far more susceptible to exact tracking than the Soutniks. They will provide a whole range of scientific data not previously known.

They will permit exact mapping of continents and give exact distances between the earth's land masses. For example, for the first time, geographers will be able to locate Hawaii within a few inches of its true location relative to the North American continent. This distance hasn't previously been known within many yards.

SCIENTIFICALLY exact tracking of the U.S. moon will provide information giving the true shape of the earth, which is known not to be exactly round.

All of this information, Dr. Hagen points out, is strictly a scientific bonus. "The original, prime purpose of the baby moons," he says, "was to test the launching equipment for the 20-inch satellite."

"We instrumented these baby satellites just in case they did get into an orbit," he explains.

Information which the U. S.

gleaned from tracking the Soutniks revealed that the atmosphere about 140 miles above the earth was roughly five times as dense as was originally estimated by U.S. scientists.

This is really a small difference because the atmosphere is practically non-existent anyway. But far more exact measurements of this density will be available from the U.S. moon.

Damascus Explorers To Canvass for Toys

Greenville Fire Loss Is Heavy

5 Structures Razed;
Fireman Is Injured

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—The worst fire in the history of this community of 8,800 left three business establishments, a home and a four-family apartment house destroyed today. Damage is estimated at $750,000.

The fire, believed to have started in the boiler room of the Martin Street plant of the Hobart Manufacturing Co. Wednesday, quickly spread to the surrounding buildings.

Only one person was reported injured in the fire, which burned out of control for nearly 3½ hours. He was a New Madison fireman, Richard Eley, about 27, who suffered a broken leg when he fell from the roof of an auto parts firm which was destroyed.

Firemen said tanks of acetylene gas in the factory exploded, sending balls of fire flying several hundred feet. They said a strong northwest wind kept the blaze from spreading in the business section about two blocks away. They said snow, left from Tuesday's storm, snuffed out any ashes which could have set neighboring homes on fire.

Firemen said the blaze broke out about 8:20 p.m. and spread in two directions, setting a beer distributor's warehouse, owned by James Hunt, and the Standard Auto Parts Co., owned by Roy Fink, afire.

From there the flames jumped to the home of Mrs. John Brumbaugh. The wall of the auto supply store collapsed on the apartment building.

All of the residents were evacuated before the flames reached the dwellings.

More than 50 firemen from five communities fought the blaze in sub-freezing temperatures. They were from Greenville, Union City Arcanum, New Madison and Gettysburg.

In the Direction of Education

The fallacy that has plagued educators and educators in this country from the beginning is about to become pestiferous again.

Once more, dissatisfaction with a state of education that has not proved perfect is going to open schoolroom doors to reformers who will cause as much dissatisfaction in the long run as the reformers who preceded them.

The fallacy that makes this possible is the belief that education is an absolute process that can be started at A and carried through to Z, whereupon it will be perfect.

This has been an open invitation to many groups of reformers who needed only to point to the shortcomings of whatever educators were riding high at a particular moment to convince impressionable people that they could do — and should be allowed to do — better.

This has made the United States a heaven on earth for educational faddists and experimentalists. It has made the United States a heaven on earth for optimists who believe in the infinite improbability of the human mind. But because there was too much faddism and experimenting going on, there also was an ideal atmosphere for muddle-headedness about education as a whole.

If it had been confined to teachers, the danger would have been limited to their influence in the classroom. Unfortunately, it had a tremendous impact on parents, on taxpayers who decided fiscal issues and on pupils.

All of them became educational experts, too. Americans are the only people on earth who accredit even the wholly uneducated as educational experts, as is demonstrated endlessly by critics who know all about education on the sole grounds that they survived it in one form or another, therefore whatever form they know most about must be the perfect one.

At the moment, the big revolutionary push is for mathematics and science to prove to the pesky Russians they cannot count on always being "fustest with the mostest" in the dawning era of rocketeering.

There is nothing wrong with a push for mathematics and science. But there will be something tragically wrong about it if it becomes just another educational holus bolus, concentrating too much emphasis on one thing at the expense of all the other things that contribute to education.

There is no absolute state of being educated, and there is no absolute procedure for becoming educated. There is only a striving by the educable to learn more, with the help of educators who strive to lead them into the infinity of knowledge.

The fallacy that education is a definitive state of being that can be arrived at by some absolute formula must be resisted for the sake of education.

It's All Very Interesting But—

Those meteor fragments which were hurled into outer space by an Air Force rocket, to burn up in the atmosphere of some other planet, may give the impression that the United States has less ground to make up in the missile race than Russia's Sputniks called to world attention.

Because they were hurled about a fortnight after the first Sputnik entered its satellite orbit, it is quite possible the meteors were hurled for the express purpose of taking some of the shine off Russia's achievement.

But the important thing about the Sputniks is not the fact they were mankind's first artificial earth satellites, signifying the first break-through into space. It is what they weighed.

There is no reason to doubt that the United States, had it concentrated on an earlier date for its own first satellite, could have beaten the Russian rocketeers into outer space. But the U.S. satellite would have been much lighter than the weight of the first Russian sphere (9½ times heavier than the one planned for the U.S. Vanguard project.) Compared with the fantastic weight of the second Russian satellite (more than half a ton; the U.S. satellite is a mere fragment, itself.

The source of the thrust required to put that much weight into an orbit reaching a maximum distance of more than 1,000 miles from the earth is the key to the Russian achievement. It is the fact that staggered U.S. rocket scientists and caused anxiety in military circles. And it is the secret the United States must discover with the aid of its allies to keep itself and them from living under the threat of a more powerful potential weapon than anything they possess or know how to develop.

Fortunately, they do not lack by any means the strength to balance the new threat. That is the significance of every move to coordinate the component sources of strength in NATO; of the demonstrations of strength by the U.S. Strategic Air Command; of the firm assurances of retaliation by medium-range missiles and all other means if the Soviet Union uses its secret for a warlike purpose.

To sum up: It is the weight of the Russian Sputniks that the world is concerned about, not the mere fact that something made in Russia was hurled into outer space.

Progress Report On American Negroes

Secretary of Labor Mitchell put some statistics on the line in a speech on equal opportunity to the Urban League in New York Tuesday night that will be quoted for years to come.

They show what has been gained in this country by putting race prejudice on the defensive. Negroes have made more progress in the last 15 years, he declares, than had been made in all the preceding years since the Civil War.

The Department of Labor survey revealed they have 17 billion dollars' worth of purchasing power, more than the population of Canada. A third of them own their homes. Negroes own 200 insurance companies with five million policyholders, 30 savings and loan associations with assets of more than 60 million dollars and 14 banks with assets of 40 million dollars.

Proprietors and managers among Negroes have increased 131 per cent. Professional men have increased 112 per cent. Supervisory jobs and civil service positions have been opened to them. Nearly all of them now go to school between the ages of 7 and 13. In 32 states, where there is no segregation handicap, they have equal educational opportunities. Negro college enrollment is increasing six times faster than enrollment of whites and now numbers 196,000—an increase of 622 per cent since 1930.

Race prejudice against Negroes will continue to be a problem. There is no easy solution for it. But the key to any solution is willingness to seek a solution, and that is being done wherever the problem exists. The political promoters of race prejudice, who made careers at the expense of the Negro race in the United States, have been put on the defensive.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Pro golf is now a regular TV Saturday feature, with the matches arranged, paid for and produced for benefit of industry supplying golf equipment. It's a far cry from the day when only the upper- setters played the game and not much attention was paid to it by anybody except addicts. But, like bowling, it is in show business.

A golf fan in Penobscot, Me., can sit in his living room and watch a golf ball fly into the rough in Oakland, Calif.

A display of golfing temper in Las Vegas is visible in Gloucester, Mass. You can turn on your video set in Cos Cob, Conn., and almost tell whether a man in Galveston is putting down the honest score or not.

THE IDEA IS to popularize the sport and draw more people into the sandtraps but the effect can go too far. The crowded fairway and noisy locker room have limits. Millions of citizens digging up the turf and crying, "Why didn't you watch the ball, cad?" can be no bargain on the fireside screen.

We think wives may rise in protest. They have to suffer enough from HEARING their husbands yack about their golf game, without WATCHING it. And the time could come when so many men will be attracted to the golf courses of America by the prospect of a TV appearance that they won't play unless there is camera coverage.

It could transform an outdoor sport into a production number and make a ham out of millions of modest golfers.

TV has done a lot for bowling, a sport that once got into the limelight rarely. There are more bowlers on the airwaves than legitimate actors. You can tune in any time expecting to get music or drama and merely get wooden pins and shining alleys.

Whither are we drifting? Fishing may soon become a video feature. If the fishing tackle boys are smart they will sponsor a fishing telecast program weekly.

A golfer or a bowler may be skeptical, but a fisherman believes everything he hears and twice as much as he sees.

A MAN WATCHING a golf match on TV can wait, and so can a bowling fan. But flash on the old homestead screen a view of a river, lake or bay, with fish busting all over "for station identification" and the fishermen yanking them into the boat over a national network, and the angler will drop everything and rush to the nearest fishing spot with the speed of light.

REX HARRISON, vacationing in Switzerland, presumably stopped in Spain to see if the rain there falls mainly on the plain. And probably used as his vacation theme song "Get Me To The Zurich on Time."

There should be a good movie in that case of the fellow who chartered a sloop at City Island for 10 days last August and just turned up in the Canary Islands. Either he thought he had jet propulsion or didn't allow for the drift.

Americans know he's a wonder, but to a foreigner it must seem strange that a top job in American defense has been assigned to a man named DOOLITTLE.

New York has a restaurant owner named Ronnie Drinkhouse.

The trick of the year was accomplished by Ketti Frings (that's the name, no fooling in taking Thomas Wolfe's "Look Homeward Angel" and boiling it down into a tense Broadway dramatic hit.

There are signs that at last some cities are beginning to treat well-known hoodlums almost as severely as they treat honest citizens who merely overstay a parking meter by two minutes.

His Wagon Is Hitched!

The American Dilemma

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the American dilemma about sharing atomic weapons secrets with allies.

It began in 1946 when this country had a monopoly on atomic development and Congress hoped to keep it that way as long as possible.

Congress passed the Atomic Energy Act, which since then has tied the President's hands in sharing atomic weapons information.

In all fields except the atomic he is free to decide what information should or shouldn't be shared.

But this country no longer has a monopoly on atomic information. And much, perhaps most, that was secret in 1946 is no longer a secret either from the Russians or from some American allies, especially the British.

Because of the U.S. Atomic Energy Act, the British had to start from scratch in making their weapons. Like the Russians, they eventually made them.

Because they were shut off from American information, they had to duplicate what was already known or done here.

Thus years of brains, energy and money were lost. If the two countries had been sharing, the West now might be far ahead of the Russians.

The Allied nations surpass the Soviets in combined brains and resources. The amazing Soviet progress in beginning to force this realization on us.

If the West hopes to get ahead, or stay ahead, of the Russians in atomic weapons it will need all the brains and energy it can muster.

It can do so only by sharing far more than this country has revealed to its friends yet.

For this reason the Eisenhower administration is asking Congress to soften the Atomic Energy Act's restrictions and give the President more freedom in deciding what is all right for the Allies to know.

This is an example of the mixed-up rules laid down in the Atomic Energy Act for the President to do or not to do in sharing information with allies.

1. He can turn over classified information — classified ranges from top secret to merely confidential — on the peaceful uses of atomic energy, provided the allies agree to keep it classified.

2. He cannot divulge to the allies any information about the design or the making of atomic weapons. He can reveal some information on those weapons, such as size, weight and effect, but not if it is believed such information might reveal anything about design or manufacture.

3. He cannot turn over atomic weapons to the allies. For instance, hydrogen bombs would have to be kept at American bases. They must be in American custody.

Yet, it's quite possible French or British troops and airmen could be instructed in using them, provided American officers were present and therefore in possession of the weapons.

4. He can turn over to the allies atomic materials which could be used for military purposes but only if they agree to put them to nonmilitary use.

Back to the Sheepfold

By TRUMAN TWILL

The sheep have not been mentioned here recently, because there was nothing unusual going on in their woolly world. But now they have changed their routine from self-reliance to dependency again. They have come back to the sheepfold in their endless search for food.

This had been postponed by the continuation of clement weather during the shortening days. Up until the last several freezes, there was good pasture in the meadows. Dandelions bloomed in sheltered places.

When the sheep return to the sheepfold, there is a renewal of confidence between them and their shepherd. Last night a husky lamb that had been unapproachable since he quit being bottle-fed last spring poked his nose into the shepherd's hand as was almost a gesture of affection. He still associated the hand with the bottle he found there when his mother disowned him because he had a black spot on his back.

Sam the Ram, husband and father of the flock, is approachable again, too, as are some of the more settled of his numerous wives. It is noteworthy that even among sheep, most skittish of all animals that have been domesticated, there are wide variations in character.

The old dillies that have been birthing lambs for many springs seem to learn the score as time passes. They even impart some of their acquired serenity to their mountain-goatish offspring, teaching them by example to eat hay out of the rack and muscle in for their share of the grain ration.

This routine is being resumed as pasture grass grows brittle and useless after continuous freezing. The slamming of the door on the sheepfold is the signal to come running for a fresh handout.

It is interesting to speculate that sheep in this climate might do 12 months a year what they do for 7 months — sustain themselves on the land. But for lambs next spring and lamb chops this winter it is important to raise them above a subsistence diet as nature's bounty diminishes in the other months.

The birth cycle of sheep is fixed by temperature. The cubs lambs that will be frisking stiff-legged among the buttercups next May are born about 150 days after the first cold weather in October opens the breeding season. With very rare exceptions, this plan for making certain that the lambs will have tender grass to eat when they need it never changes. Science is fooling with hormones to upset the cycle, but it would be better, all things considered, if science would acknowledge that in this respect nature knows best.

The wool cycle also is fixed by natural law. A sheep is ready for shearing at the end of cold weather; that is when its wool is in prime condition. If the winter coat were not cut off for use by man, it would be pulled off by rubbing and pulling during the warm months. Wool grows slowly when the weather is warm, rapidly as the temperature drops. By mid-winter, a sheep is insulated against cold by as much as five inches of fleece.

On yes, lamb chops. They are ready when the lamb is about two-thirds grown. Spring lamb, so called, is from the spring last preceding the spring that is springing. It is not like veal but like baby beef. And that takes care of his sheep until next March, when the 1957 lamb crop materializes and becomes the "spring lambs" of 1958.

Tell the First Story, First

To The News: Have we become mercenary concerning Christmas? As yet I have been unable to purchase a picture of the Nativity Scene to make an inexpensive triptych to use at home.

There are two customs which have annoyed me recently. One, Thanksgiving is being crowded out by the material items concerning Christmas. And there is much to be gained by observing the custom of giving thanks. Two, we as Christians are allowing the same material idea to crowd out the only reason for Christmas, namely the Birthday of Jesus.

The spirit of Santa Claus is not unlike that of Christ, but let us remember to tell the First Story, first.

UN's Laudable Stand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Labor Head Faces Fact of Rising Unemployment

Any evidence that the free world is maintaining its ideals and would, if necessary, fight for them is welcome nowadays, when appeasement is in the air.

Thus, Aneurin Bevan, who may be the next foreign secretary of Great Britain, is, in effect, urging withdrawal of American forces from Europe and is advocating "neutrality" as between America and Soviet Russia.

George Kennan, one of the men who influences a considerable section of the so-called "liberal" group in America, has been delivering lectures in England in which he questions the necessity of keeping United States troops in Germany and sees a serious danger in stockpiling nuclear missiles in Western Europe.

These utterances are not surprising. There are many people who have been impressed by Soviet intransigence and who consequently advocate compromise, though such moves could be the first steps toward surrender.

WHAT THE UN did last week, however, stands out as a conspicuous rejection of doctrines of appeasement. Thus, during the last three years, for instance, the propaganda in favor of admitting Red China into the United Nations has been persistent.

The old cliché that, after all, the Communist Chinese are in supreme control of the mainland is offered as the reason for forgetting basic principles and for rewarding the aggressor in the Korean war. There is disregard, too, of the fact that Red China's foreign minister, Chou En-lai, went to Geneva in 1954 and denounced the United Nations, saying he wouldn't have anything to do with that organization in any plan for unifying Korea. If Korea was to be reunited, he said, it must be under Communist terms.

Fortunately, the United Nations itself hasn't overlooked the fact that, since the Geneva conference of 1954, the Red Chinese haven't given an inch on the subject and still talk as if they had won the war in Korea.

BY ADOPTING a resolution calling for the peaceful reunification of Korea under United Nations auspices and by doing so with an overwhelming vote, the United Nations told the world last week it was standing firm for the ideals of collective security for which so many American and other soldiers in the free world gave their lives.

Perhaps the best expression of true American sentiment came from a source which has not always supported the foreign policy of the present administration. In an editorial that minced no words and stated the blunt truth, "The New York Times" said on Monday:

"Actually, the United Nations, itself the sponsor of the free Republic of Korea, has again put itself on record as opposed to the continued outrage of partition. It has again called for a righteous solution of the problem, in accordance with its own lofty principles. From that moral ground there can be no retreat."

"Those members of the United Nations who wish to see freedom and justice served realize, as do the free Koreans themselves, that they are facing, and will continue to face, a Communist obduracy rooted in the denial of freedom and the frustration of justice."

There has been no deviation from this unfruitful pattern of Communist thought and behavior since the first days when the Soviet Union imposed the barbarous division of the peninsula upon the Koreans and defied the good will of an good purposes of most of the free world.

It is wishful thinking, now, to look for some sort of proper compromise on the basic issues. The Communists simply do not want and will not tolerate such a step.

FOR THIS reason it is doubly important that the United Nations position continue to be made unequivocally clear. The Communists can rely upon the desire of the free world to keep the peace, and they obviously hope to freeze the Korean situation into a permanent stalemate until it suits their purposes to strike again.

What the United Nations can do, in response, is to keep up an unrelenting moral pressure against the wrongdoers and to maintain its physical as well as moral assistance for the free Koreans. That road is long and painful, but there can be no turning away from it.

This is adherence to American idealism and rightly emphasizes a reliance on moral force. What is said of the Korean stalemate, of course, applies equally to the stalemate over the reunification of Germany.

There can be no compromise of principle without opening up wide the roads to appeasement which in the end, as the 1930's demonstrated, can only lead to war.

Economic Barometer

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Metals are basic to and a thermometer for a large part of the nation's economy. Reduced output today is looked upon as recording a slight deterioration in the general health.

At the same time metal producers are regarded as a barometer since new orders reveal the plans of manufacturers and builders for some time into the future.

Wall Street, therefore, has been paying close attention to declining output of steel.

Declining steel orders at this time are caused by three things: Reduced production by the manufacturers themselves, a wide tendency to live off inventories, and, to a lesser degree, increasing imports.

The American Iron and Steel Institute forecasts this week steel output at 1,843,000 tons. This is the lowest since August 1956 when the industry was getting over a strike. Or, if you ignore strike periods, it's the lowest since the Christmas holiday week of three years ago.

About 30 per cent of the industry's steel making capacity appears to be idle. This isn't the institute's figure, since it bases percentage figures on capacity at the start of this year. Several million more tons have been added since then.

Idle mills have led to a look at the import situation. Europe, and especially West Germany, has made big strides in rebuilding and expanding its steel industry.

For example, at a time when American companies are reporting a drop in sales, Phoenix-Rheinrohr A. G. of Duesseldorf, West Germany, reports that in its fiscal year, ending Sept. 30, its sales increased 16 per cent to 388 million dollars. Thirty per cent of sales volume was accounted for by exports, while the previous year export's share was 26.8 per cent.

Steel imports by the United States, however, are still a small part of total consumption here.

And consumption seems to be running higher than the output of domestic mills would indicate. Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, says today actual use of steel here this year will set a record. This will be because fabricators and manufacturers are dipping heavily into inventories.

Part of this is a desire to trim down to what the manufacturer's own outlook seems to call for. Part, at least in late summer and fall, was to take advantage of steel bought before the price hike July 1.

But the weekly point out a tax reason involved. Some government units impose a tax on inventory on hand at the end of the year. Users, especially the smaller companies, are getting them as low as possible this month.

But the barometer that Wall Street is watching most carefully is the declining orders the steel mills report. Even the reduced output is outstripping incoming orders and most steel companies report shrinking backlogs.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Soon there will be the singing of carols and talk of good will. But shortly after the holiday seasons ends, a series of mighty clashes on the labor front will mark 1958. The man to whom most of the hottest strikes will be pitched is Joseph Finnegan, President Eisenhower's national peace-maker, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. These are the questions I put to Mr. Finnegan about these coming events. And here are his answers.

"From where you sit, what does the collective bargaining picture for 1958 look like as of now?" I asked.

"I'm afraid it looks like a pretty rugged year on the labor-management front," Mr. Finnegan replied. "I've talked to labor and management representatives throughout the country, as well as to my own mediators, and my opinion is partially based on these talks."

"IN THE ABSENCE of other factors, we in the service would look toward 1958 as a rough one because of the contract expirations in the aircraft, farm machinery and automobile industries. Also, there are other major contract expirations and re-openers in glass, maritime, electrical and textile industries. All of these will affect hundreds of thousands of workers."

"Those I've mentioned would be more than enough to keep us hopping, but add to this the current union troubles, economic conditions, labor's talk about a shorter work week, management's stiffening attitude and other speculative factors, and it looks like a hectic year."

My next question was: "Labor's goal for next year, such as the shorter work week, have been well publicized. What will management's position be?"

Mr. Finnegan replied: "The UAW has announced that it will seek a shorter work week, increased pay, improvements in fringe benefits and clauses controlling plant relocation or guaranteeing jurisdiction where changes are made. Now, unless our current economic situation improves, I think such demands are going to be met by increased employer resistance."

"ONE STATED management position on this was: 'This (shorter work week, coupled with an increase in pay, is economic nonsense.'"

"Narrowing profit margins, falling sales and the money situation indicate to me that employers are not going to be in a very receptive mood when faced with demands that will certainly up the costs of production."

"While economists differ about the state of the nation's present and future economic health, there is general agreement that it is not as good as it has been for the past few years."

"I think employers will be approaching the bargaining table in a different frame of mind and definitely a more cautious and conservative one."

Question: "What are you, in the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, doing to prepare for the coming year?"

Answer: "For the past year we have undertaken several steps to improve our staff and render the best possible type service to labor, management and the public. For instance, labor and management took the lead some time ago in conducting training and development programs for their bargainers. We have been using this approach with respect to our mediators."

"WE HAVE SET UP an intensive training program in the course of which our mediators attend seminars designed to strengthen and improve the tools and techniques of mediation. We have enlisted the cooperation of some of the top universities in the country to assist us in conducting these seminars."

"We are trying to sharpen the skills of our mediators so they can stay several jumps ahead of labor and management and really make a substantial contribution to negotiating sessions."

"In addition, we have taken a close look at the geographical distribution of our mediators and, after careful evaluation, have made some necessary shifts. Men have been reassigned to the potential conflict areas in order to be more easily accessible to where they will be needed. In many instances this has meant the establishment of offices where, heretofore, none existed."

"All in all, within budget restrictions, we have done everything possible to be prepared for a heavier work-load and increased demands for assistance."

"Although we are looking for a tough year, I believe that labor and management, over the past several years, have demonstrated the success of collective bargaining and I think the maturity of both factions will be demonstrated once again in this coming year."

That's why the Mediation and Conciliation experts are closely watching this week's AFL-CIO Convention in Atlantic City. The Hall Syndicate

Kensington Church Is Scene Of Archibald-Hively Nuptials

The Kensington Christian Church sanctuary was the scene Nov. 24 of the wedding ceremony of Patricia Anne Archibald and Adin Richard Hively.

Rev. Don Neumeister, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony, which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller Archibald of Kensington and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson E. Hively of Columbiana.

Palms, white carnations and pompons, and two seven-branch candelabra were arranged at the altar where Mrs. William Morgan sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Oh, Promise Me" and "Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Gladys Merriman was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowning in a white lace and nylon net over taffeta creation which was fashioned with a fitted lace bodice. The full skirt, worn over a large hoop, was floor-length, and had four lace points with lace appliques scattered over the net. The sleeves came to a point at the wrist.

A veil of white nylon net in the finger-tip length held in place the ing a blue dress and a corsage of white carnations.

One hundred fifty guests greeted the couple at the reception in the church annex after the ceremony. White pompons were arranged around the base of a three-tier cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom. White flowers and green fern provided the floral decor.

Serving the guests were Mrs. Don Coleman and Mrs. Helen Mehnert, aunts of the bride. At the silver service were Miss Dorothy Hively, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Elvira Jane DiRocco, the bridegroom's cousin.

When the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, Mrs. Hively wore a charcoal brown princess style dress and the orchid which she carried in the wedding.

A Minerva High School graduate, the bride is a student at the Canton National Beauty College.

Mr. Hively, a graduate of Columbiana High School, is employed at the Columbiana A & P Co.

Upon their return from the wedding trip, the newlyweds will reside in Kensington.

Workers Sought For County Mental Health Program

One facet of the Columbiana County Mental Health Assn.'s activities is to assist in the rehabilitation of psychiatric patients, particularly by those who have recovered sufficiently to "return home," according to Miss Estelle Esterly of Columbiana, chairman of the committee dealing with that phase of the overall program.

In this area, "returning home" often means being released from the Woodside Receiving Hospital in Youngstown, Miss Esterly said.

A program has been initiated which begins with visits at Woodside. Emphasis is placed on the idea of social acceptance of psychiatric diseases, Miss Esterly said.

These visits are continued in the local community to help the individual feel really at home again after his return, again stressing community and neighborhood re-acceptance, she added.

A person needs no professional skill or training to assist in the program, she emphasizes. Persons who are willing to carry on this work in the county should contact Miss Esterly.

Volunteers already at work include: Mrs. J. D. Thompson, East Liverpool; Mrs. Robert Davis and Mrs. H. D. Harris, Salem; Mrs. Edwin Kauffman, Lisbon; Mrs. Elwood Henry, Columbiana; Mrs. Paul R. Brittain, East Palestine; and Mrs. Lester Mellinger, Leetonia.

Gosney, Taylor Resolution Favors State Headquarters

The Democratic State Executive Committee will move state party headquarters from the Desler-Hilton Hotel to temporary quarters on Columbus' State St. as a result of a resolution prepared by Don Gosney of Columbiana, 18th district state central committee man and secretary to Congressman Wayne Hays, and John Taylor, Salem printer who was 1956 nominee for Ohio lieutenant governor.

That a headquarters - exhibit building to house state offices as well as party historical items be acquired was suggested in their resolution which urged a change in management of the party's state campaigns, particularly in the fields of fund-raising and advertising media selection.

The Committee has deferred formal action on the resolution. Having a permanent building of its own, rather than being situated in a hotel, would take the party out of "smoke-filled hotel rooms" and "place it into public view," the resolution contends. The building would provide offices for state committee and county chairmen and legislators when they are in Columbus.

Gosney and Taylor also recommended appointment of committees to "examine the errors" executed in the 1956 election. The men claim the campaign "did not employ all nominees in an orderly fashion as part of an overall sales campaign, nor did the committee consult regularly with the nominees as a group."

In most cases, they contend, "the nominees were left on their own as though the general election campaign was just another primary contest." The resolution further states that certain nominees created campaign committees to collect funds for themselves, "and spent those funds in behalf of themselves with no regard for the general welfare of the ticket."

It further advises that "there should be a responsible instrumentality to which citizens..."

'LIFE BEYOND THE GRAVE'

Life Must Be Lived As Though It Never Ends

LIFE AFTER DEATH III

Editor's Note—For 11 eventful years, Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont has served in the U.S. Senate. Here, in the last article of a series, the 76-year-old lawmaker candidly — and movingly — gives his own answer to the question, Is there life after death?

By RALPH E. FLANDERS
U.S. Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—For millions who profess Hindu and Buddhist beliefs, life after death is an accepted teaching. For them there is not one life after one death, but successive returns to earthly existence in forms which more or less definitely perpetuate something of the individual and provide for him a rebirth on a higher or lower level, depending on the life that he has lived in his previous incarnation.

The strength of the belief probably lies in part in the revered authority of the saints and sages but perhaps likewise in the fact that for those who hold it the whole body of doctrine answers so many of the questions which burn in the mind of every living, experiencing and thinking man.

For a Christian who has experienced a conversion like that of St. Paul, there is and can be no shadow of doubt in this assurance.

But there can be a strongly based faith for Christians who have not gone through this experience. If the historic Jesus is once apprehended, then the historic story of the transformation of the Apostles from the vacillating, simple-minded fellows before the death and resurrection into the men of singleness of purpose and spiritual might which they became after that event, can be explained on no other basis than their conviction that they had seen and talked with a risen Christ. One may seek to explain away the whole historic incident as a mass of myth or ingenious imagination, but the story is too great for this. Beginning with these 12 men this incident dominated history. There are grounds here for faith in a life after death.

There is mystery in the microcosm and in the macrocosm. We learn more and more about the atom year by year, but we do not seem to come to an end of the process of charting its structure, its particles, its energy or its possibilities. Nor do we do much better with the macrocosm. The astonishing discovery that the farther off the heavenly bodies are from us, the faster they are leaving us, seems to lead to the conclusion that they once started in an incredible explosion from some central source and that the most distant galaxies are the most distant because they traveled the faster.

This brings our minds back to a relief in some sort of a creation—a belief not based on authority or revelation, but on the mystery of the material universe. Of course, there may not have been a creation. It may be there is a colossal rhythm. Over eons of years the universe may be expanding and then contracting and expanding again forever. But is that any less a mystery than creation?

Then leaving out the matter of spirit, we are faced with the mystery of mind and matter. By what means does worry produce stomach ulcers? That it does is a matter of homely experience. But how does matter become connected with mind? How does matter indeed become alive? And what is life? When we face these mysteries does continuance of life seem impossible?

One who has begun to live life with any degree of fullness feels the warmth, feels the power, feels the deep certainty of there being something there. If there is something there, it gives a meaning to life which is not a transient one. It gives a deep feeling that life must be lived as though it did not end.

COULD COUNTER THREAT

CLEVELAND (AP)—Russia may be ahead of us with the intercontinental ballistic missile (ICBM), but the United States could counter the threat of his long-range weapon with intermediate range ballistic missiles (IRBM), says Gen. John E. Hull, USA (Ret.).

How? By deploying the IRBM at forward bases in Europe.

In a speech Wednesday night at the annual awards dinner of the Chemical Profession of Cleveland, Gen. Hull urged also that the Atomic Energy Act be revised to allow sharing of atomic secrets with friendly powers.

Israeli Convoy Crosses Jordan

JERUSALEM (AP)—The first Israeli convoy to Mt. Scopus in two weeks crossed Jordanian territory today carrying 14 barrels of gasoline and other supplies.

Jordan stopped convoys to the demilitarized Israeli enclave last month with a claim that gasoline constituted military cargo. The Israelis said it was necessary fuel. The supply run started again today under an agreement worked out by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

U. N. observers in the presence of Jordanian officers checked the food, gasoline and other supplies in the trucks before they set out. The convoy carried 45 policemen plus a number of civilian caretakers.

Hammarskjöld flew to Damascus for a 24-hour visit. He will talk with Syrian officials about Syrian-Israeli border tension previously announced.

Grand Champion Steer To Be Sold

CHICAGO (AP) — Half a ton of walking beef goes on the auction block today at the International Livestock Exposition as buyers bid for Honeymoon, a chunky Hereford steer, grand champion of this year's show.

The 1,000-pound white face owned and exhibited by a young Indiana farm wife, Mrs. Sue L. Secondino, 19, of New Goshen, won the show's top honors Tuesday after winning the junior show Saturday and emerging from Hereford judging Monday as the best summer yearling.

"Col." Roy Johnston of Belton, Mo., who has auctioned every grand champion steer at the show for nearly a quarter century returned to do the selling again today.

Last year's champ, PS Troubadour, a Shorthorn shown by Pennsylvania State University, brought a record $20.50 a pound for a total of $20,367.50. But that price was not a record for all stock shows.

In 1945 a price of $35.50 a pound was paid for the grand champion of the American Royal Exposition in Kansas City. The full price was $42,600.

Lowest price ever paid for a grand champion at the International was 18 cents a pound in 1909. Lowest paid in recent years was $4.55 in 1952.

Mrs. Secondino's winning the top prize marked the first time in the show's history that a woman exhibitor's animal took the honors.

Honeymoon was bought for Sue by her husband, Pete, 23, while the young couple was honeymooning near San Antonio, Tex., last February.

Mrs. Robert Pancake, Mrs. Robert Scoles, Oak Grove School; Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. Irene Plake, Mrs. Gladys Smith, Elkton School; and Mrs. Dorothy Taylor and Mrs. Delores Deshler of West Point.

Plans for the dinner were completed at Tuesday's session of the Booster Club which was presided by Leroy Shingleton, secretary, in the absence of President Burl Reeder. Thirty members attended.

A total of $1,642.22 was reported in the club treasury.

Arthur Plake, a trustee of the club, read the bylaws which were approved. The new constitution for the club was also adopted.

The scheduled movie of the Southside High School near Williamsport was not screened because it had not been returned.

Cadillac

A Masterpiece... Even by Cadillac Standards!

The magnificent Cadillac car for 1958 is, without question, a rare masterpiece in all the things that make a Cadillac... a Cadillac!

Certainly, it has had no precedent insofar as beauty is concerned. In its graceful symmetry of line and in its remarkable look of stature and substance, it is in a class all of its own.

Unquestionably, it is without counterpart by the way of interior elegance. Never before have Fleetwood coachcrafters combined such graciousness and luxury and spaciousness in a single interior design.

And, most assuredly, it has set its own extraordinary pace in modern motor car performance. Its dynamic new engine, its more responsive transmission, and its new air suspension, now available as an extra-cost option, are simply a revelation.

We earnestly hope that you will take the time to see and drive this extraordinary new Cadillac at your earliest possible convenience.

Your Cadillac dealer will be delighted to give you full details on Cadillac's twelve new models, including the incomparable Eldorado Brougham.

Market Customer

By ED CREAGH
For Hal Boyle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal esty, is an ever-growing symbol of American abundance.

What your majesties may have missed, though, in your marveling at the topless heaps of goodies, detergents, stockings, mops and phonograph records, is perhaps the most remarkable thing of all: The supermarket customer.

He (and especially she) comes in many varieties, but the following categories pretty well cover the field:

1. Big Bertha. She's the same gal who drives in front of you on the highway—right down the middle of the road. She drives her shopping cart as if it were a Sherman tank. She will either run you down or leave her cart smack in the aisle where you're bound to trip over it.
2. Dottie Dither. She's in a frantic hurry to get out with a tube of toothpaste which she won't need until next week. So she sneaks ahead of you in the check-out line and then discovers she needs cigarettes, clonspins, an- chovies and an assortment of items so offbeat the manager has to go downstairs and open the safe to find them.
3. Helpless Harry. He's feeling put-upon because his wife stuck him with the shopping detail. You can always spot him by the list he carries. It has such jottings as "B. & S. R's," which he is supposed to interpret as "brown-n-serve rolls," and "4 D F. (??)," by which his wife means he is to get four cans of dog food if, but only if, there is a sale on it.
4. George the gourmet. He may have a list, too, but he pays small attention to it. He's gaily loading up with hummingbird tongues, fried grave worms and all manner of other delicacies which he wouldn't know how to prepare and wouldn't eat if he could.
5. Penniless Pete, or Mrs. Pete. They heap their shopping buggies with grub enough to feed a clam-bake and then discover they haven't a cent in their pockets. So the manager, who never saw them before, is supposed to cash a crumpled check, signed with a name that looks like "Nikita S. Khrushchev," and if he says no they take their business elsewhere.
6. Fertile Flossie. She makes shopping a family affair, meaning that the six older children run wild while baby sits in the shopping cart happily knocking bottles off the shelves. The older children clamor for soft drinks, beat each other on the head and steal candy out of your shopping cart.

This doesn't exhaust the list of customers but just thinking about it exhausts your correspondent.

Columbiana Courts

Dean Hawk of East Liverpool vs. Thomas Gallaher, Lisbon RD 1, action in replevin for recovery of motor, stand and batteries and action for $1,800 claimed due for services.

John W. Augustine of New Waterford vs. Floyd J. Need of East Palestine; action for $400 claimed due on promissory note.

SUBMITS HIGH BID

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Prophet Co. of Detroit submitted the highest of eight bids received by the Ohio Turnpike Commission for operation of six Turnpike restaurants temporarily being run by the commission. The high bid was 18.25 per cent of gross sales for 10 years.

The commission has the right to pass up the high bid to make an award it believes to be in the best interest of the public.

Bidders include the Howard D. Johnson Co., 15.5 per cent in an eight or 10-year contract, and the Union News Co., 15 per cent for eight years or 15.25 for 10 years.

Joe Brown Scores TKO Over Lopes In 11th Round

Lightweight Champion Toys With 4-1 Underdog From Start

CHICAGO (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, fresh from blasting aside game but over-matched Joey Lopes, is poised for a probable February title defense against Ralph Dupas at Houston, Tex.

Title Match Draws 4,194

Brown Would Like Fight With Dupas

CHICAGO (AP) — Joe Brown must be the loneliest boxing champion in history.

At least the lightweight king appeared to say Wednesday night. Only 4,194 souls were at ringside to watch him stop Joey Lopes in the 11th round at Chicago Stadium.

Only a handful of newspaper men and a television crew showed up in his dressing room afterwards.

In fact, they held the door of the room open and asked you to come in. A far cry from the mob scenes in the past at the Stadium when you had to battle gendarmes to stuff yourself sardine-like into the place.

Brown is a likeable guy who has a lot to say.

"I was trying to get Lopes all night with a right and left and I finally did," he said. "I set him up with a left uppercut in the seventh then hit him with a right. He went down and I thought I had him. From then on he was fighting only on instinct. He may have looked like he came out strong in the eighth, but he was bluffing—I could tell in the clinches.

"I hit him with a left and right to settle it in the 11th. He didn't hit me with a good solid blow all night—at least I didn't feel anything."

Brown said a fight with Ralph Dupas in Houston would "draw only half the gate as it would in New Orleans—but they don't allow mixed fights in New Orleans."

Brown is a Negro. "I think Dupas would make a better fight for the fans than (Kenya) Lane (No. 1 contender)," Brown continued. "He is faster and shifter, and can take a better punch. Lane won't do anything but paw at you. Neither can punch, though."

The only thing that kept Brown from being too lonesome was a woven plastic key chain sent to him by one of his four sons, 8 year-old Ray.

"I kept it in the pocket of my robe," he said. "He made it in school. Makes me awfully proud he can do things like this."

Lopes was cut and weary. "I just couldn't catch him," he said. "When I did hit him I didn't follow up. My corner told me later I should have stayed down and taken a nine count when he floored me for the first time in the 11th round. But I'm not used to being down, so I got up as soon as I could."

His manager, Harry Fine, shook his head.

"Yes, he made a big mistake. He should have taken that nine count. He hit Brown and hurt him, but then he just stood there and got tagged himself. He was doing all right on rounds and Brown was an 11th-round technical knockout of Lopes in a televised championship bout that was more uneven than it may have looked.

On points, Lopes was still very much in the fight until the champion lowered the boom in 1:50 of the 11th round, but actually Brown was toying with the 4-1 underdog virtually from the start.

Brown fought a retreating fight in the early rounds, but scarcely used a right-hand punch. In the seventh, the champion exploded a right to the chin which floored Lopes for a count of four.

The fight really was over right then. Lopes fought back gamely, but in the 10th round, the scrapper from Sacramento, Calif., wandered in a daze to Brown's corner and sat on the champion's stool.

In the 11th, Brown came out for the kill. A square right shot to the jaw dumped Lopes, who took a three count. Lopes righted himself, only to run into another explosive right to the chin which dropped him again. Lopes struggled to his feet once more. Brown savagely belted him and Referee Joey White flew between the two to signal a TKO and save Lopes from possible serious injury.

Each fighter weighed 133½ for the scheduled 15-rounder.

Lopes was bleeding from cuts around both eyes and around the mouth. He shot his Sunday punches at Brown time and again, but they didn't hurt the champion.

getting tired. I know, because Brown's hands were dropping and I think we could have won if Joey had gotten his breath by taking a longer count."

Lopes' trainer, Johnny Cenicer, can't see how any lightweight around now can beat Brown.

"The man just has too much power," he said. "I don't care how old he is (31), he'll always be a great fighter as long as he's got that punching power."

OSU Cagers Lose Opener

Five Other Ohio Colleges Win Games

By The Associated Press
The Kentucky Wildcats spoiled Ohio State's basketball opener Wednesday night with a 61-54 victory. The Wildcats also spoiled a possible sweep by six Ohio Colleges over out of state foes.

All were victorious over their opponents except the Bucks, who were first plagued by an inability to hit the basket, then could not keep a rally going long enough to overtake Kentucky.

The Buckeyes had to overcome a big lead in the first half to narrow Kentucky's edge to one point, 26-25, at the break. During the first few minutes of the second half, the lead changed hands eight times and was tied on five other occasions. This happened while the teams climbed to a 39-39 deadlock.

From there, the sharp-shooters from Lexington pulled into a lead and staked out OSU rallies. Dayton, Oberlin, Bowling Green, Steubenville and Kent State all played out-of-state opponents and all marked up victories.

Dayton had little trouble in knocking off Morris Harvey of West Virginia 64-43, but both teams lacked precision and accuracy.

The Flyers could only connect on 27 of 93 field goal attempts. Morris Harvey turned in an even worse record of 8 out of 47 tries.

Oberlin poured in 28 points in the first 10 minutes of the second half of its game with Allegheny College of Meadville, Pa., to turn the contest into a rout. The Yeomen won the opener 61-50.

Bowling Green handled visiting Xavier (Ohio) 83-76. Hillsdale of Michigan with ease in its 86-52 triumph. It was the second victory for the Falcons, who now set their sights on the Mid-American opener Saturday with Miami.

Jim Smith, who scored 27 points in the 23 minutes he played, paced Steubenville to a 99-48 victory over Alliance College of Cambridge Springs, Pa.

The 6-foot-3 Smith, who led the nation last year in rebounds, picked off 28 in his short stay Wednesday night.

Kent State had to fight off a late rally by Westminster (Pa.) for its 77-72 victory. The game was tied six times in the first 11

Boston Celtics Hand Fading Minneapolis 108-98 Defeat

By The Associated Press
It looks like a long, cold winter for the fast-fading Minneapolis Lakers.

Once the Titans of the National Basketball Assn. when George Mikan was an active player, the lowly Lakers have fallen upon evil times with Mikan now at the coaching helm.

Minneapolis dropped deeper into the Western Division cellar Wednesday night as the sizzling Boston Celtics rallied in the final period to hand the Lakers a 108-98 setback in the only game played. A doubleheader at Philadelphia involving Detroit against Cincinnati and St. Louis against Philadelphia was postponed until tonight because of a snowstorm.

The Lakers have lost 16 of their last 11 games and have won but three of 20 starts overall. The Celtics, running away with the Eastern Division race, own a 17-2 won-lost mark.

Boston outscored Minneapolis 37-17 in the fourth quarter after trailing by 10 points entering the period. The Lakers were behind 53-49 at halftime before Larry Foust sparked them to a 32-point third stanza while the Celtics were held to 18.

After Lou Tsioropoulos put Boston in front for good 96-94 with three minutes to go, the Lakers kept pace and still were behind 100-98 with 75 seconds remaining. The Celtics' Bob Cousy then clicked on two long shots and Bill Sharman cemented the outcome with another pair of field goals.

Sharman topped the scoring parade with 21 points and teammate Frank Ramsey chipped in with 20. Foust contributed 19 in a losing cause for Minneapolis.

Cleveland Gets Minoso In Trade

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.

General Manager Frank Lane of the Cleveland Indians shipped around today at the baseball convention for a second baseman—preferably Bobby Richardson of the Yankees.

Lane said he was still looking for trades after swapping with the Chicago White Sox Wednesday in a deal that sent outfielder Minnie Mino and infielder Fred Hatfield to Cleveland in exchange for pitcher Early Wynn and outfielder Al Smith.

Lane has approached Washington on a deal that awaits a decision from manager Cookie Lavagetto, who was called away by the injury of his son in an Oakland, Calif., auto accident. That was the second deal in 24 hours involving the White Sox here. Earlier the Sox sent outfielder Larry Doby and pitcher Jack Harshman and another player to be named later to Baltimore in exchange for infielder Billy Goodman, outfielder Tito Francona and pitcher Ray Moore.

Christy, Hill, Crow, Pace On AP All-American Backfield

OSU's Thomas At Guard Slot

Iowa Tackle Karras Is Only Repeater

NEW YORK (AP) — A halfback whose first field goal attempt made history, a comeback tackle and a senior giant making his varsity debut at center today were named to the 1957 Associated Press All America football team.

North Carolina State's Dick Christy is the electrifying runner whose 45-yard boot climaxed a record 29-point finish to his brilliant year and clinched the Wolfpack's first Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

Quarterback King Hill of Rice, bonus pick of the National Football League, Texas A.M.'s massive John Crow and elusive Jimmy Pace of Michigan complete the backfield.

Rated by Coach Forest Evashevski as a dismal flop as a sophomore, Iowa tackle Alex Karras has become one of the finest linemen in recent years. The 233-pounder from Gary, Ind. is the lone repeater from 1956.

Dan Currie of Michigan State was asked to plug a gap at center after two years as guard. The 6-3, 225-pounder had led his team to a 6-3 record in 1956.

The remainder of the line includes Jimmy (Big Red) Phillips of Auburn's national title and Dick Wallen of UCLA at ends, rugged Lou Michaels of Kentucky at the other tackle with Ohio State's Aurelius Thomas and Oklahoma's Bill Krisher manning the guard spots.

The team was selected on recommendations from 12 regional boards.

Hill and Crow represent the only paired backfield men from the Southwest Conference on the All America with the exception of the two-platoon year of 1951.

A 205-pound handman from Freeport, Tex., Hill ran, passed, kicked and was outstanding defensively. Crow is a gifted 214-pounder from Springhill, La., who constantly amazed opponents with his speed, power and ability to make the big defensive play.

The 180-pound Christy set an ACC scoring record in "his" 29-26 victory over South Carolina fashioned on the field goal after time had run out. The Chester, Pa. flash couldn't be stopped. He rushed 626 yards, caught 10 passes for 211, returned kicks 363 and tallied 83 points.

Pace, picked by an eyelash over Michigan State's Walt Kowalczyk, is the Big Ten's leading scorer and ground gainer. Coach Bennie Oosterbaan calls Pace "Michigan's best running back since Tommy Harmon and Elroy Hirsch."

Kowalczyk, Bob Anderson of Army, Bob Stransky of Colorado and Lee Grosscup of Utah comprise the second-team backfield.

Phillips, a freckle-faced redhead at 205 pounds, caught passes for over 300 yards and four touchdowns but stood out even more as key man in the nation's top defensive line.

Wallen caught 20 passes for 303 yards, intercepted four aeriels and recovered six fumbles.

Michaels and Karras, 236 and 233 respectively, are extremely mobile for their size.

Thomas led Ohio State to the Big Ten crown with his aggressive play.

Besides the bonus selection of Hill, Crow, Currie, Michaels, Phillips, Pace and Karras were selected in the first round of the NFL player draft.

ALL-AMERICA FOR 1957. — These players were picked for the 1957 football All-America on recommendations of the 12 Associated Press regional boards. Backs are King Hill, Rice; Richard Christy, North Carolina State; Jim Pace, Michigan; and John Crow, Texas A. & M. Iowa tackle Alex Karras is the only first team repeater from 1956.

Kansas, Kentucky, Strong Title Contenders, Win Tilts

By The Associated Press

Kansas and Kentucky, each tabbed a strong contender for North Carolina's national collegiate basketball championship, have broken from the barrier in a hurry.

So has Wilt (the Stilt) Chamberlain, the Jayhawks' amazing marksman.

Both "K" teams hung up their second victories of the infant campaign Wednesday night. The Jayhawks rode over Canisius 66-46 as Chamberlain poured in 32 points and Kentucky nipped highly-rated Ohio State, 61-54.

Pittsburgh also scored impressively, 72-62 over Michigan, and tiny St. Norbert College upset surprisingly-loaded Marquette 49-47.

Kansas, which whipped Oklahoma State Monday night, led 28-24 at halftime. But with Chamberlain catching fire with 20 points, the Jayhawks crushed Canisius in the second half. Wilt the Stilt's output gave him a 62-point total for the year.

Ohio State's Buckeyes are rated tops in the Big 10, along with Michigan State and Indiana, and they showed the Wildcats why. They managed to deadlock the game at 39-39 in the second half, but Vern Hatten's jump shot snapped the deadlock and the Wildcats led the rest of the way.

Don Hennon, Pitt's 5-8 scoring ace, paced the Panthers to their triumphs collecting 25 points on eight field goals and 10 free throws in a rough game that saw three players from each team sidelined on fouls.

Marquette's loss was its second in two starts through Coach Jack Nagle has described the team as his best since 1954-1955. That one put together a 24-3 record.

Still, their opponents from De Pere, Wis., had the answer in ball-control strategy.

Elsewhere, Clemson, which will touch off North Carolina's campaign Saturday night, bowed to Georgia's Bulldogs 62-60.

Maryland, a strong Atlantic Coast Conference team, opened its season by turning back George Washington 64-55.

Minnesota's Gophers, who defeated Southern Methodist 66-52 in an opener Monday, is home to Iowa State Thursday night in the only game involving a Big Ten club.

The lead changed hands eight times in the last half before Kentucky could down the Buckeyes after holding a 26-25 intermission edge.

The Bucks pulled within three points of Kentucky in the closing minute only to have the drives stopped. Frank Howard could score only 7 points for OSU while Jim Laughlin pumped in 18. Kentucky's John Crigler with 22 and Vern Hatten with 20 topped the scoring.

Pittsburgh gained a 37-31 lead over Michigan midway and the closest the Wolverines could come to closing it was 39-42 in the second half. Then Pitt poured in eight straight points and never was headed.

Three players from each team fouled out in the last half of the rugged game. Billy Wright headed Michigan's attack with six field goals and five-of-five free throws for 17 points.

Sekely's, Electric Furnace, Parker's Win Cage Contests

Diggers Are Beaten By John's Pennzoll 62 To 45

Two Class B city league court teams dropped their first encounters of the year in Wednesday night's cage action. They are Mark's Landing, defeated by Sekely's 48-45, and Lincoln Way Service, trounced by Electric Furnace 55-33.

In a pair of other contests Parker's best Lisbon Lumber 52-43 and John's Pennzoll won over the Diggers 62-45.

In the Sekely-Marks clash, never more than four points separated the two clubs. Chuck Edie scored a field goal and a foul shot with three minutes left to put the winners into a 41-39 lead which they never relinquished.

The victor's scoring was divided evenly. Edie had 10 points, as did Andy Saffow and Roy Hoopes. Chuck Griener paced Sekely scorers with 12 points.

Phil Wenner collected 16 for Marks.

Sixteen markers by Joe Carmelo, 13 by Jim Harrigan and 12 more by Larry Stoffer carried Parker's to its nine-point win over Lisbon Lumber.

Parker's led at the half 23-19. Roy Weaver and Al Arnoto had 13 each for the losers.

Electric Furnace handed Lincoln Way Service its first loss mainly on the scoring of George Manning, who pocketed 20 points. He was backed up by 12 from Roy Yeager and 11 more by George West. Furnace led all the way, building up a 35-18 intermission lead.

George Ramsey had 10 for Lincoln Way.

John's Pennzoll rallied for 24 points in the last period to come from behind and beat the Diggers. The losers led at the end of three quarters 41-39 but they faltered in the final canto with only four scores to slip into defeat.

Roger Wyss had 16, Fred McKinsie 15 and Jack McAbier 10 for the winners.

Carson McNeely of the Diggers topped all scoring with 22 counters.

Seixas, Flam Sweep Easy Wins Over Philippine Tennis Aces

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—America's Vic Seixas and Herbie Flam swept to easy straight set victories over the top tennis aces of the Philippines today to send the United States into a 2-0 lead in the Interzone Davis Cup Final. First the 34-year-old Seixas of Philadelphia, in razorsharp form, erased Tony Felicissimo Ampon, Philippine giant killer, in a match that took only 53 minutes, 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Then Flam, bespectacled, bow-legged ballhawk from Beverly Hills, Calif., attempted to match the time schedule, but failed by three minutes as he crushed Philippine champion Raymond Deyro 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

The two victories buoyed the spirits of the U.S. Davis Cuppers, whose morale had been shattered by Australian tournament reversals and brought new hope to the chances of recovery of the trophy.

Palestine Nips Wellsville In Overtime

East Palestine's basketball Bulldogs won their opening game of the season last night when they defeated Wellsville in overtime 49-44.

The contest was tied 44-44 at the end of regulation play, but the home team pocketed five markers in the extra session to cop the verdict.

It was also the Bengals first game of the year.

Sam Hirt with 14, Bob Gibson with 11 and Larry Knight with 10 points sparked coach Don Hinton's team to their win.

Wellsville's Dan Baldwin copied scoring honors with 19 points. Palestine trailed at the half 21-19 but rallied in the third frame for a four-point bulge.

The Bulldogs JV's won over the junior Bengals 57-30. Dale Lane was high man for the Palestine reserves with 17 counters.

Palestine's next contest is Friday night at Carrollton.

Strikes And Spares

Dick Hahn's 244 game, mixed with a sparkling 625 series, spotlighted timber action in Tuesday's Deming League.

Hahn, bowling for Dept. 30, amassed eight strikes in his 244 game. He was the only kegler getting better than a 600 series.

Wayne Hahn, Dick's brother, performed the unusual by bowling a 169 triplicate for a 507 set. He'll receive an emblem from the American Bowling Congress for his effort. He bowls for Dept. 30 also.

John Meier of Dept. 7 worked a 572 set, including a 213 game, while Roy Votaw of Dept. 12-2 fashioned a 574 series which included a 210 tilt.

Other good scores were turned in by Mike DeJane of Dept. 20, 184-536; Bill Sommers of Dept. 24, 190-502; Bob Bailey of Foundry Two, 198-501; Lew Catlos of Dept. 3, 202-523; Hank Carliarielli, Dept. 3, 189-513; Ted Parks of Dept. 3, 192-546; and Gale Dougherty of Inspection, 196-517.

Carl Sommers had a 194 game and Clarence Ward, a 191 for Dept. 12.

GAMES OF 220 AND 217 by Paul Wukotich of Paul's Pennzoll topped bowlers in the Service League Tuesday evening. Wukotich blasted the pins for a 606 series.

Turning in commendable jobs were Melitschka of Starbuck's, 192-522; Meissner of Elks 1, 188-522; Frank Schmid of KC 1, 189-519; George Wukotich of Paul's Pennzoll, 181-527; Chuck Malloy of KC 2, 197-556; Paul Scullion of KC 2, 191-537; Bob Tubbs of KC 2, 191-549; and Joe Loutzenhiser of KC 2, 189-529.

Others were Spencer of Logue's 194-514; Logue of the same team, 199-559; Scott of Logue's, 188-531;

will join Don Carter of St. Louis in the final four days of a round-robin competition. Carter, three-time national champion, was seeded into the finals automatically.

224 Begin Firing In Bowling Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—High scoring was predicted today as 160 men bowlers and 64 women began firing in the nine-day World's Invitational Match Game Championships at the Chicago Coliseum.

The men's field eventually will be sifted to the 15 finalists who will join Don Carter of St. Louis in the final four days of a round-robin competition. Carter, three-time national champion, was seeded into the finals automatically. The women's field also will be trimmed to the final 15 who will enter the finals along with top seeded Mrs. Marion Ludwig of Grand Rapids, Mich., who has won six national match game titles.

The bowlers warmed up Wednesday night in a sweepstakes. A five-player men's team, captained by Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, scored 1,856 pins to top 31 other units and won $250. Teaming with Hoover, whose two game effort was 382, were Stan Thaden, Chicago, 408; Foy Belcher, Glendale, Calif., 385; Joe McCorvey, Birmingham, Ala., 422 and Jim Schroeder Buffalo, N.Y., 388.

A women's team of four bowlers captained by Marge Merrick of Detroit spilled 1,143 pins for top money of $200 in its division. Miss Merrick had 406. Others on the winning club were Chiya Tashima, Los Angeles, 301; Pat Dryer, Indianapolis, 401; and Sylvia Fanta, Chicago, 353.

Columbiana Police to Pick Up Alleged Bogus Check Passer

COLUMBIANA — Chief of Police William McGuckin is making a trip by plane to Phoenix, Ariz., used in addition to the one to bring back Donald Kenneth Eames, wanted here for alleged bogus check operations in Columbiana and vicinity.

Eames is being held in Phoenix on a charge of petty larceny and has waived extradition. He is said to have used the aliases of Charles Wright and Jack Cohen.

Village Council adopted a resolution Tuesday evening making funds available for the six-hour trip by air each way, which will be a saving in view of incidental expenses of a trip by train. The village will be reimbursed by the county after Eames is indicted.

Council voted to provide the police cruiser with a buzzer or blinker system to alert the police when they are not in the cruiser to respond to a radio call. Cost of the device, including installation, will be about $100.

The system of signal lights about town, operated from the police telephone central to give notice that they are needed, has deteriorated until only three are working, and the cost of repair would be considerably more than the cost of the new device.

Delivery and installation will be made in about five weeks by the Motorola-Mobile Selective Service Co. of Cleveland.

To provide for future needs, a three car capacity installation was purchased at a cost of only $6 more than for a one-car outfit.

DOUGLAS MOORE, clerk of the board of affairs, was present to give council information on the need of another billing machine. Ice William McGuckin is making a trip by plane to Phoenix, Ariz., used in addition to the one to bring back Donald Kenneth Eames, wanted here for alleged bogus check operations in Columbiana and vicinity.

Monthly instead of quarterly billing has increased the work of the office, which the proposed machine could reduce by about two-thirds, Mr. Moore said. He said addition of the proposed machine was recommended by the state auditor's office.

A motion was passed to table the proposal again for study of more systems.

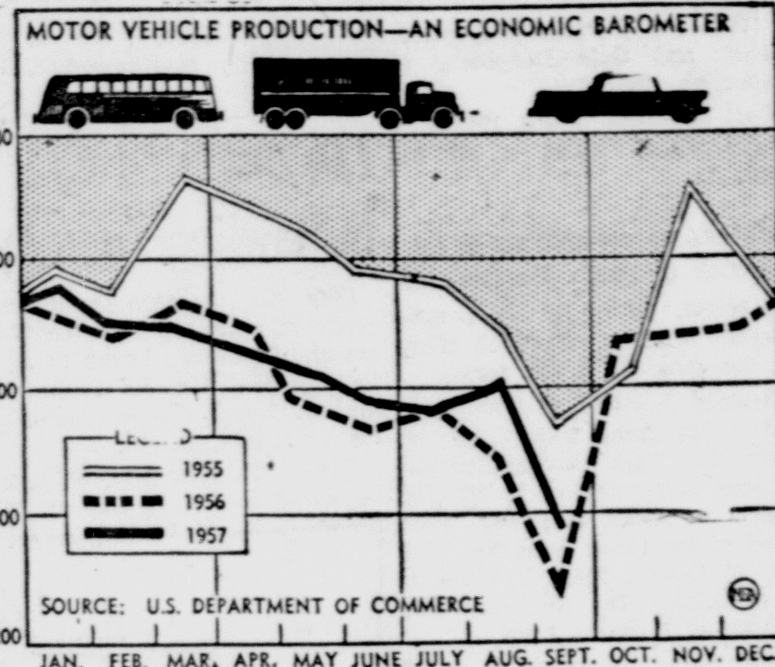

Fire Chief Donald Hisey told council new hose is badly needed and that the need has been emphasized by an inspector.

Solicitor Jack Kuhlman was instructed to draft an ordinance for the purchase, as the cost of perhaps more than $1,000 will require an advertisement for bids. The safety committee will investigate the needs and come up with a recommendation at the next meeting, Tuesday evening, Dec. 17.

Chief Hisey said also that fire chiefs of the area, including Salem, Columbiana and East Palestine, have discussed joint purchase of an air compressor for about $700 to be centrally located for re-charging Scott air packs, worn by firemen as a protection against smoke.

Council accepted the county auditor's allotment of real estate taxes in the amount of $26,775. Inside the 10-mill levy, the amount is $21,235, and the rate is 2.30; outside the 10-mill levy the amount is $18,460 and the rate 2 mills; for pensions $5,540 and the rate six-tenths of a mill.

Clerk Orr reported having bought

UPS AND DOWNS OF AUTO INDUSTRY — Production of motor vehicles directly reflects the public's ability to purchase new cars and trucks. It is, therefore, an important indicator of economic conditions. One out of every seven U. S. workers has some dependence on the industry which, among other things, consumes 22 per cent of our steel and 36 per cent of our annual radio production. In 1956, the industry's fourth best year on record, nearly seven million cars, trucks and buses were built, having a total wholesale value of 11 billion dollars. As chart above shows, 1957 production runs higher than last year's.

for $1,820 of the Firestone Park trust fund $2,000 worth of U.S. Bonds.

SOLICITOR KUHLMAN was instructed to draft an ordinance establishing a grade on the section of Spring alley along the south side of the Plaza Market building.

A survey to straighten Firestone Ave. near E. Salem St. was ordered before any action on a request for the vacation of Walnut St., existing only on paper, between N. Main St. and Firestone Ave.

Mayor E. L. Calvin reported November receipts of $594.75 paid arrests, one liquor arrest by a state enforcement officer, and two village arrests during November, Calvin noted.

THE PROGRAM FOR the meeting of Midway Grange at 8 p.m. Saturday will deal with the local importance of civil defense. A first-aid demonstration by the seventh platoon of the 31st mobile support group will be the main feature.

There will also be a display of rescue equipment, and a defense film will be shown. Juveniles are asked to take three small gifts or toys for a boy or girl that may be wrapped into happiness balls for Christmas charity.

Mark Klingensmith, chairman for the Christmas seal sale in Columbiana and Fairfield Township, reports sales to Dec. 1 of $1,419.30 toward the $3,300 quota.

Firestone American Legion Post Auxiliary requests that gifts for orphans of soldiers and sailors at the Xenia Home be left at the American Laundry office or at the home of Mrs. Robert Patchen of 46 Duquesne St. by Saturday. Gifts for boys and girls of ages two to 18 are desired, and they do not need to be wrapped.

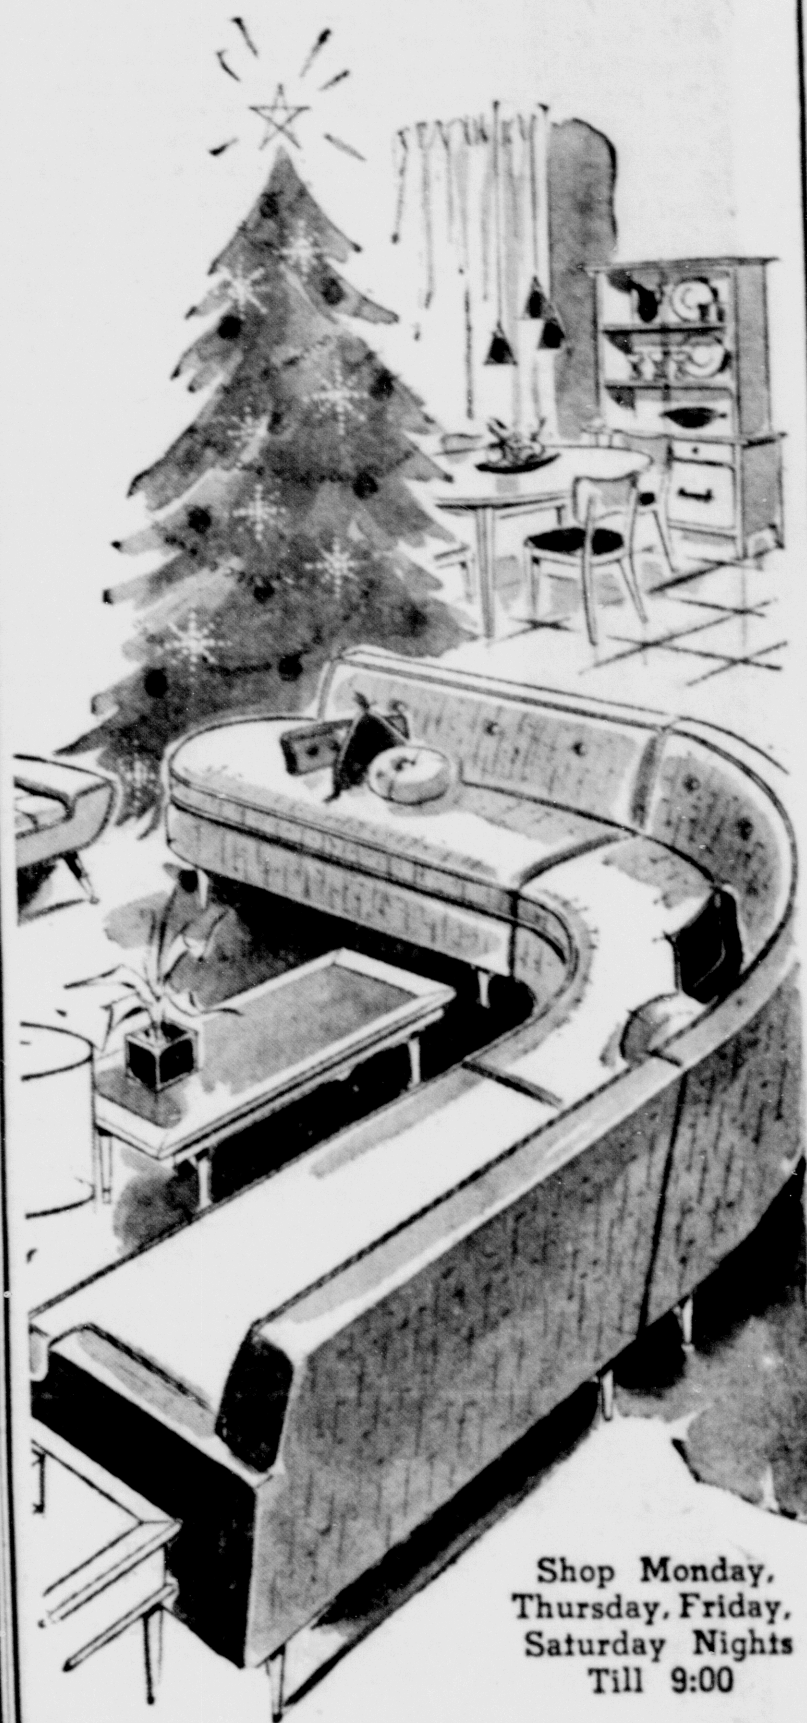

TO STAY OPEN LONGER COLUMBUS, Ohio — State liquor stores will remain open two additional hours on nine days during the holiday season, Robert B. Krupansky, director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, said Wednesday. To meet the holiday rush, stores will remain open until 9 p.m. Dec. 18-21, 23, 26-28 and 30.

States Housewives Help Boost Prices

Specialist Says Meat Isn't Costly - Relatively Speaking

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U-P)—The average housewife stalking out of the butcher shop with a roast under her arm probably wonders sometimes if the butcher has a gold hoard in his basement.

"Why is meat so expensive?" is a question she has asked the butcher, the next-door neighbor and her local congressman innumerable times.

Well, cheer up homemakers, the answer is simple. Meat isn't expensive—relatively speaking.

The process that starts as a new born calf and ends as a steak on your dinner table is so many-sided that it is remarkable it can be accomplished so economically, says Robert Havener, Ohio State University meat specialist.

He explains it this way: A beefsteak usually starts as a spring-born calf on a western range. In the fall, it is shipped to a cornbelt farmer. There, the little animal eats its way through one and a half tons of corn, hay and protein supplement and winds up as 1,000-pound steer.

A packer will probably pay about $250 for the steer and sell the resulting 60 pounds of carcass beef to a retailer for the same amount. The 40 pounds of hide, tail and other inedible by-products he keeps for his operating margin.

The retailer, by the time he has dressed and trimmed the meat, has only 450 pounds of it that he can sell. He would have to sell it at 55 cents a pound merely to get back what he paid for the carcass.

But operating expenses such as labor add another 10 cents a pound for even the most efficient retailers.

Now, inasmuch as most of the 50 pounds consists of hamburger, stewing meats and pot roasts that sell at or under 65 cents a pound, the retailer must charge much more for the small remainder of choice cuts to make even a small profit.

Havener says there is also another factor that drives the price of meat up—Mrs. Housewife.

It seems that everybody is eating higher off the hog or steer these days and consumer competition for the choice meats reflects in higher prices at the retail level.

AKRON RESIDENT KILLED

AKRON, Ohio (U-P)—When William Terry Muto, 21, of Akron drove onto the Wilbeth Road crossing Tuesday night in a heavy snowfall, an automobile ahead of him was pushing still another car.

Muto tried in vain to get traction in the snow to pull around, but a Baltimore & Ohio freight train smashed his car broadside.

Muto was killed, his body hurled nearly 20 yards from his crushed vehicle. The stalled car and the one pushing it were clear of the train and escaped damage.

Guarding Your Health

Dropsy --- Fluid Accumulation

For several months, writes Mrs. H., my feet have been swelling and I am worried about it, although my doctor tells me that my heart is all right. Would you discuss this, she asks.

This is almost certainly the accumulation of fluid which goes by the name of dropsy, or edema. Occasionally there is an hereditary condition at fault and there are some in whom it is the result of poor circulation in the legs.

Usually, dropsy is a symptom which reflects the failure of the body to eliminate all the fluids it should through the kidneys, so that some accumulates in the tissues.

It cannot be considered a disease itself, but is a sign of some underlying disorder of the body.

One of the most common causes of dropsy is failure of the heart to pump as well as it should. The normally acting heart pumps the blood through the blood vessels at a fairly even rate. The blood which flows through the kidneys is filtered by these organs so that fluids which should not be kept in the body are eliminated.

If, however, the heart is not working well, the blood will pass too slowly through the kidneys and too much fluid is kept in the body.

The most common place for fluid to settle is in the feet and ankles because the force of gravity aids in the deposit of fluids in these regions.

One of the treatments for dropsy of the feet caused by heart disease is bed rest so that gravity will not work to aid the deposit of fluid there. Of course, the heart itself must also be treated. Rest is good for his organ also, since the heart does not have to work so hard when the body is not exerting.

Another condition which may lead to dropsy is damage to the kidneys themselves. If they fail to remove the fluid and other undesirable material from the blood, dropsy may result.

Sometimes dropsy results not in the legs only, but elsewhere in the body, including the abdominal cavity or the lungs.

One should remember that the body is ordinarily so well run that the appearance of dropsy must be considered as a sign of something fundamentally wrong.

Special Ledger

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio — State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy's office keeps a special ledger for bouncing checks.

They total about 1 1/2 million dollars a year.

Recent increase in the number of bad checks received from those doing business with the state indicates to officials that times are getting a little tougher.

Goals increased from 32 "rubber" checks for $2,490 in one day to 45 for $3,772 the following day, latest tabulations showed.

Amounts of the checks ranged from $2.50 to $1,130. They came from individuals and firms for taxes, premiums, and fees, and a number of officials who drew checks on the wrong funds or made them out improperly. Premiums include those for workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation funds.

Harry Startzman, Tracy's cashier, said every check passing through the state treasurer's office is photographed as well as posted. Those that bounce are returned for collection to the department that deposited them in the state treasury.

That makes the various departments responsible for any loss resulting from failure to collect on the checks.

Most of the checks come back marked "insufficient funds." But many of them bear no signature of the maker, are not endorsed, are drawn by individuals on saving accounts or on uncollectable funds against which checks cannot be written.

Some checks stating on their face that are not collectable after 30 days fail to arrive within that time limit and are sent back to be made out anew.

One of the largest checks to bounce this year was for a $38,500 tax payment.

The Sales Tax Division avoids considerable difficulty by requiring certified checks from purchasers of tax stamps for cigarettes and beer. The Bureau of Motor Vehicles requests purchasers of special motor vehicle license plates for certified checks or money orders. But many motorists send in personal checks that bounce.

Officials assert the number of bad checks is not relatively high when the total handled is considered. About 20,000 checks arrive daily in the state treasurer's office. They total about $1,600,000 a year.

But the work of tabulating bad checks requires virtually the full time of an employee to keep the state treasurer from losing any money on them, Tracy reported.

Hunters' Wives, Here Is How!

Does your freezer boast game? As we drove through Connecticut this fall, cars and station wagons whizzed past us loaded with deer. Judging from this sampling, the hands that rock the cradles are busy cooking venison.

Although our own experience with the meat has been limited, we have learned a few things emphasized by Audrey Alley Gorton in her recently published "The Venison Book." One is that proper cooking will do more for the meat than the marinades usually prescribed. Mrs. Gorton recommends that choice cuts such as chops, steaks and roasts be treated exactly as you would handle similar fine beef cuts; and that "long, slow cooking, or pressure-cooking, will usually take care of the less choice cuts of meat."

Of utmost importance is Mrs. Gorton's discovery that the gamey flavor of venison comes from the fat. She says, "If the fat is removed when the meat is prepared for freezing or cooking, and strips of bacon or lardons substituted when the meat is cooked, there will be no need to drown the venison in a witch's brew."

Let marinades take over when they're due — in sauerbraten, made with venison, for instance. One of Mrs. Gorton's recipes is for an English-style Venison and Kidney Pie, worth trying because England has always been noted for its game cookery.

But don't get the idea that Mrs. Gorton is concerned with recipes alone; she has practical advice to offer on freezer packaging, pressure canning and curing with salt and smoke. Her book also takes up dressing the kill, skinning and cutting up — these gory details supplied by a colleague of the author's at Marlboro College, Frederick J. Turner, Professor of Forestry.

Venison and Kidney Pie

Ingredients: 1 pound stewing steak (cut in 1½-inch cubes), 1 beef kidney or 8 lamb kidneys, 3 tablespoons fat (beef suet may be used), 3 medium-sized onions (peeled and sliced), salt and pepper, boiling water or stock, pie-crust, 1 egg yolk.

Method: Prepare the kidneys by removing the membrane and cutting out the white part. Slice the beef kidney or halve the lamb kidneys. Roll steak and kidney pieces in flour, pressing the flour into the meat. Melt the fat in a skillet and brown the pieces of meat. Put the meat and onions into a fairly deep fireproof dish (the dish should be about ¾ full). Put the boiling water or stock into the skillet to take up all the gravy and cover the meat in the dish with this mixture. Put on the lid and bake in a medium oven (350 degrees) for at least 1 hour — or until the meat is tender and the gravy thick, add salt and pepper to taste. If you are in a hurry, this part of the cooking can be done in a pressure saucepan. Cook the meat about 20 minutes under 15 pounds pressure. Remember to reduce the liquid by about ½ the amount recommended for baking. When the meat is cooked (either method), remove from the oven — or, if pressure cooked, put meat in baking dish — and cover with crust, fluting the edges and making several slashes in the crust to let out the steam. (The English cut a round hole about 1 inch in diameter in the center of the crust.) Brush the crust with an egg yolk beaten up in 1 tablespoon of water if you like a shiny crust. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) until the crust is nicely browned.

Skillet Lamb Chops

Ingredients: 4 shoulder lamb chops (about 1¼ pounds), 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 2 medium-sized carrots (cut in thin rounds), 2 ribs celery, 1 medium-sized onion (cut in thin strips), ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup cooked drained small green lima beans.

Method: Cut excess fat from around chops. Brown rapidly on both sides in butter in 12-inch skillet. Add carrots, celery and onion. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover tightly and simmer until chops are tender — 30 minutes or longer. Add lima beans; reheat. Makes 4 servings.

CONVICTED OF MURDER

Chicken Vegetable Soup

We flew to Boston to have lunch with Dr. Frederick J. Stare, head of Harvard's department of nutrition. We ate soup — a hearty fish chowder.

Youngful looking, slender, vital, this world-famous scientist says soup has an honored place in the diet.

He wrote recently, "Studies made by the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation Laboratories indicate that many soups like bean and bacon, vegetable and meat and pepper pot are rich in essential tissue-building nutrients. These soups, and others combining meat or fish, vegetables, cereals and milk, provide the variety of foods that is the basis of good nutrition through a balanced diet."

We recently went to a luncheon at the St. Regis Hotel in New York given to introduce three brand new canned condensed soups to food editors. We like them, particularly the minestrone and chicken vegetable. Of course, you may like the turkey noodle best. Here's a description of the three:

1. Chicken Vegetable: A combination of 6 garden vegetables (carrots, potatoes, onions, tomatoes, celery and peas) plus chunks of chicken and enriched ribbon noodles. Ten and one-half ounces in each can (1 1/4 cups condensed soup, 2 1/2 cups prepared), 2 to 3 servings.

2. Minestrone: An Italian-style vegetable soup combining carrots, potatoes, tomatoes, onions, celery, peas, green beans, pea beans, zucchini, cabbage, turnip greens, mustard greens and enriched spaghetti (long thin spaghetti) simmered in strong beef broth, plus fine Italian cheese.

3. Turkey Noodle: Turkey stock, enriched egg noodles and choice chunks of tender turkey, well seasoned.

Leftover Turkey For Main Course

Leftover turkey can be turned into a delicious main course dish. Here's how:

Savory Turkey, Potato Pie

One-third cup butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 1 1/2 cups finely diced onion, 1 cup finely sliced celery, 2 1/2 cups turkey broth, 3 cups diced cooked turkey, 1-3 cup flour, 1 tablespoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon marjoram, 1/4 cup cold water, 3 cups mashed potatoes (3 pounds), 1 egg, beaten; 1/4 teaspoon white pepper, 3/4 cup chopped parsley.

In 9-inch skillet blend together 3 tablespoons butter and 1 1/2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet. Add onion and celery and saute over low heat, stirring occasionally until tender, about 10 minutes. Add turkey broth and turkey. Cover and bring to quick boil. Blend together and add flour, 2 teaspoons salt, marjoram and water. Cook, stirring constantly for 5 minutes. Pour into greased 2-quart baking dish. To the potatoes add 1 tablespoon butter, egg, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper and mix thoroughly. Stir in parsley. Spread over surface of contents of baking dish. Blend together remaining butter and kitchen bouquet. Brush over potato mixture. Bake in preheated 350 degrees F. oven about 30 minutes. Serve immediately.

To serve with sliced cold turkey, this recipe is interesting a filling.

Baked Potatoes

Four baking potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon finely diced onion, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon rosemary, 1/2 cup light cream, 2-ounce cans chopped broiled mushrooms, 1/4 cup grated American cheese (1 ounce). Choose potatoes of equal size.

Bake in preheated 400 degrees F. about 1 hour. Meanwhile melt butter. Add onion and saute over moderate heat about 2 minutes. Stir in flour, salt, pepper and rosemary. Add cream and contents of cans of mushrooms. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and comes to boil. Cut thin slice from top of each potato and scoop out half of potato. Fill cavities with creamed mushroom mixture. Sprinkle grated cheese over top of each. Brush lightly with paprika. Return potatoes to oven and bake until cheese is melted, about 10 minutes. Serve immediately.

TUTTI-FRUTTI CHIFFON PIE

One quarter cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin, 1 1/2 cups reliquified instant nonfat dry milk crystals (according to package directions), 2 eggs, beaten; 1/4 cup candied mixed fruits, 1/4 cup chopped walnuts, 2 1/4 cups whipped instant nonfat dry milk crystals, 9-inch crumb or baked pie shell.

Mix sugar, salt and gelatin together in saucepan. Stir in reliquified instant crystals, eggs and fruits. Stir over medium heat until mixture begins to boil (5 to 6 minutes). Add nuts. Chill until mixture thickens and mounds when dropped from spoon. Fold in whipped instant crystals. Spoon into shell. Chill 2 to 3 hours. Garnish with Maraschino cherries, if desired.

Note: To whip instant nonfat dry milk crystals (makes about 2 1/2 cups):

1. Mix cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals with 1/2 cup ice water.

2. Whip until soft peaks form (3 to 4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

3. Continue beating, while gradually adding 1/4 cup sugar, until stiff peaks form (3 to 4 minutes longer).

Holiday Candlemaking Is Intriguing Project

Making decorative candles can be a rewarding project if you keep two things in mind: NEVER let children participate. NEVER heat wax in any way other than in a double boiler over low heat. Turn fire off before removing top section of double boiler to pour your wax into the molds.

WHERE TO GET wax? Variety, grocery and hardware stores stock wax in stick, or bar form.

WHAT TO USE for molds? Many kitchen utensils lend themselves to use.

For example: a plastic bowl was used as a mold for the holly berry candle, above. Santa's head, top right, was molded with aid of two plastic bowls, an da small funnel, five inches tall, was used to make his hat.

Christmas tree, right below, was made with aid of a cone forming from a cardboard circle 21 inches in diameter.

Cardboard circle was slit to center point, formed into cone shape and sealed with masking tape. Well-wrapped in paper and tied with several turns of cord, it was filled with wax after its tip had been cut off.

Before pouring, cone was placed in a large, fruit juice can and a tapered candle was inserted to serve as a wick. Steer clear of glass for a mold, unless it's of the heat resistant variety.

HERE IS THE general procedure for candle making:

1. ALWAYS use a double boiler for melting wax, and turn heat off before removing wax from stove prior to pouring.
2. NEVER pour melted wax down the drain. Remelt and pour in a container you can throw away.
3. Grease thoroughly with vegetable shortening any mold you plan to use. Clean, dry, chilled molds give best results. They can be wiped free of any bits of wax with SANTA CANDLE is a project for the handy man who waxes skillful in color and design.

CHRISTMAS TREE in wax takes the handy man who waxes skillful in color and design.

4. Allow melted wax to cool slightly before pouring into molds.
5. Best result in forming wicks is obtained by using commercial candles of various sizes for wicks. Pour a small quantity of wax into mold. Set candle in place. Let harden. Continue pouring of wax.
6. Leave newly molded candles in refrigerator or out-of-doors in a sheltered place, overnight, to permit them to harden completely.

7. Molds made of cardboard should be sealed with masking or adhesive tape. Wrap in newspaper to catch leaks. Tie paper tightly to support the mold.

8. Wax can be colored by adding bits of shaved crayon to wax as it melts in double boiler.

9. Froth that serves for Santa's beard, frost on trees, and what have you, is made by whisking with a fork a small amount of melted wax in an old coffee tin. Don't use an electric beater.

10. There's no substitute for your own ingenuity in fashioning unique candle creations.

PLASTIC BOWL was mold used to produce this holly berry candle. It features artificial leaves and berries.

Tapioca Cream

Ingredients: 1 package (3 1/4 ounces) vanilla-flavored tapioca pudding mix, milk, 1 can (about 11 ounces) Mandarina oranges.

Method: Make up pudding, using amount of milk specified on package, according to mix directions. Chill in one container. Drain oranges, reserve 10 of the sections. Fold remaining oranges into chilled pudding; spoon into serving dishes; garnish with reserved orange sections. Cover and refrigerate until serving time.

Note: Drained syrup from oranges may be used to sweeten a fresh-fruit compote.

CARNIVAL

By Turner

WHAT'S HAPPENING AROUND THIS HOUSE? WHO ARE ALL THOSE PEOPLE IN THE LIVING ROOM?

PEOPLE—JUST PEOPLE. YOU COME WITH ME!

I'M STILL A MEMBER OF THE JONES FAMILY, AREN'T I? O.K., IF YOU'RE IN SOME KIND OF A MESS, I'M READY TO DO MY SHARE—

YOU CAN'T, HONEY—

WHO EVER HEARD OF A YOUNGSTER YOUR AGE VOTING?

OH, I—HUH? I SUPPOSE YOU THINK I'M TOO YOUNG—V-VOTING?

THEY GOT EDDIE! (COUGH) I HEARD A TOMMY GUN!

SHUT UP.

WE'LL DIE IN THIS SMOKE, (COUGH COUGH)

WET YOUR HANDKERCHIEF IN THIS PAIR—AND KEEP IT OVER YOUR NOSE.

WHAT ABOUT HER?

LEAVE HER WHERE SHE IS.

GOING DOWN, SAM.

OF COURSE, NOT! I HELPED DAD GET INFORMATION FROM THE REDS. HE MADE IT SEEM GLAMOROUS AND—AND PATRIOTIC!

YOU DON'T PENNY THAT DO YOU, MISS FOLLY?

BUT YOU CAN'T THINK THAT HE... I... WE WOULD EVER WORK FOR THEM...

SORRY YOU COULDN'T HELP US OUT MORE, MISS. WELL, THANKS FOR SHARING THE COFFEE BREAK ANYWAY.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. Williams

SURE, JUST KEEP POUNDING—THE STOVE WILL STRETCH TO OBLIGE YOUR WOOD CUTTING—YOU LEAVE THE WOOD SO LONG IT WON'T GO IN, AND LEAVE THE ASHES SO LONG THEY WON'T COME OUT!

THE OLD KITCHEN STOVE. HOW COME WE STILL LOVE THOSE OLD THINGS THAT CAUSED US SO MUCH MISERY?

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

With Major Hoople

JEHOSEPHAT, MARTHA! AM I IN BED? I MUST BE IN THE THROES OF A NIGHTMARE! DO YOU KNOW WHAT THAT OLD PERMISSIVE BAXTER JUST SUGGESTED? KAK—KAK—A NEIGHBORHOOD YULETIDE GET-TOGETHER!

GO GET YOUR SCOREBOOK AND CREDIT COUSIN, DAISY WITH A 300 GAME! SHE HAS BROUGHT THE SPIRIT OF BROTHERLY LOVE AND PEACE ON EARTH TO OUR BACKYARD JUNGLE!

BLACK EYE AND A NEW ERA

THE MORE I RUB IT, THE BIGGER IT GETS

WHAT'S THAT SPOT ON THE FLOOR?

WE THINK IT'S JUST SHADOW, DADDY

THE SHADOW STAYED IN THERE WHEN YOU CAME OUT. WELL, YOU FRIGHTENED IT

WONDER IF CAPTAIN EASY HAS CALLED ON WILFONG YET? YOU'RE THE BUTLER WHO WOULD'VE SHOWN HIM IN, I SUPPOSE.

YES, SIR, YESTERDAY! HE WAS THE MAN WITH A SLIGHT LIMP, WHO SEEMED A BIT AGITATED!

THAT'S HIM! DO YOU RECALL HOW LONG HE STAYED?

HE HADN'T LEFT WHEN I WENT OFF DUTY LAST NIGHT, SIR! AND I WAS GIVEN TODAY OFF.

PERHAPS MR. WILFONG WAITED HIM TO STAY OVER AND JOIN HIM ON A SHORT CRUISE? I NOTICED HIS CRUISER AT THE DOCK TODAY!

THANKS! WELL, IT'S A BIT LATE, BUT I WAS ON MY WAY.

OH, NO! NOT ANOTHER MAN-TO-MAN TALK, DAVEY?

PUG, YOU JUST GOTTA LISTEN!

I DO NOT, AND I HAVEN'T THE SLIGHTEST IDEA WHAT YOU'RE TRYING TO WARN ME AGAINST. I THINK YOU'RE SICK!

SICK, HUH? DOGGONIT, THAT'S WHAT WOMEN MAKE ME!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By MERRILL BLOSSER

I COULD SURE USE THE BUCK LARD BORROWED FROM ME!

IT WAS TWO BUCKS HERE. HE STILL OWES A PAYMENT ON THE TRUMPET HE BOUGHT FROM ME!

HEY! THIS IS THE DAY HE GETS HIS ALLOWANCE!

OH-OH! WE'D BETTER HURRY!

MONEY BURNS A HOLE IN HIS POCKET. HE MIGHT NOT GET TO US WITH ANY JINGLE!

WE'RE HERE TO COLLECT OUR SHARE OF LARD'S ALLOWANCE!

MORTY MEEKLE

DICK CAVALLI

SURE YOU WILL, WINTHROP. YOU BEEN USING IT ALL DAY AND YOU'RE TIRED OF IT!

NO, I WON'T LEND YOU MY SLED!

AND PRETTY SOON YOU HAVE TO GO IN FOR SUPPER, AND BESIDES, IF YOU DON'T LEND ME YOUR SLED—

I'LL BREAK YOUR SCRAWNY NECK!

I WONDER IF THAT'S WHAT THEY MEAN BY “THE IRON FIST IN THE VELVET GLOVE”!

PRISCILLA'S POP

By AL VERMER

BUT, PRISCILLA! OATMEAL IS GOOD FOR YOU!

I HATE IT!

JENNY LU HATES IT! SO DOES HOLLYHOCK AND MAUREEN AND CYNTHIA AND VIRGINIA.

YOU CAN'T NAME ANYBODY WHO LIKES OATMEAL!

OF COURSE I CAN! NOW LET ME SEE!

THERE WAS THAT I HELEN YATES WHO WENT TO SCHOOL WITH ME. I THINK SHE LIKED OATMEAL!

BUGS BUNNY

GREETIN'S, BUTCH! I GOT SOMETHIN FER YA!

YEAH, WHAT?

THIS, YA BIG BULLY!

OOF!

I GUESS WE SHOWED HIM, HEY, PORKY?

MARTHA WAYNE

By WILSON SCRUGGS

MORNING IN THE LOBBY OF THE CENTERVILLE COURIER...

I'D LIKE TO INSERT A CLASSIFIED AD.

VERY WELL, SIR.

THAT WILL BE THREE DOLLARS AND SIXTY CENTS, PLEASE.

HUH? I MEAN, OH, WELL, I'LL SEE IF I HAVE IT!

I KNOW YOU'RE NEW HERE, BUT DO YOU KNOW WHO THAT WAS? YOU'LL NEVER LIVE THIS DOWN, THAT'S DRISDALE BARINGS, THE EDITOR!
